President Picks W. Bedell Smith For Repeat Of Geneva Conference

PARIS (AP)—The United States, Britain and France ended a two-day conference Wednesday hopeful the three big Western Allies were headed toward a unanimous policy on Indochina.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Premier Pierre Mendes-France failed to persuade U S Secretary of State Dulles to return to the Geneva conference with the Communists on an Indochina cease fire. But the United States agreed to send back to the conference table Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, undersecretary of state.

Dulles, Eden and Mendes-France spent seven hours in conference Tuesday night and Wednesday, and Dulles had two transAtlantic telephone conversations with President Eisenhower before the assignment of Smith to Geneva was announced.

Mendes-France, who has staked the life of his government on achieving an "honorable" armistice in Indochina by next Tuesday, expressed himself as pleased with the talks.

Fruitful

"The talks were fruitful and will certainly lead to an agreement," he told reporters before taking off for Geneva.

The French Premier laid heavy emphasis on the work of Eden in the two-day conference, saying the British statesman played a "cordial and effective role."

Mendes-France and Eden appear to be agreed the only way to achieve a truce in the eight-year-old Indochina War is to divide Viet Nam, one of the three Associated States of Indochina. This would mean consenting to Communist domination of the vastly important areas of the north, possibly including Hanoi, the northern capital, and Haiphong, which has served as the seaport funneling in American war supplies to support the French in the war with the Communist-led Vietminh.

Up to now, it has been American policy to have as little to do with a partition settlement as possible. However, Dulles explained to his French and British colleagues the United States felt itself limited in the Indochina negotiations in Geneva because the Americans do not have "a primary responsibility in the Indochina War.

Heat Breaks Briefly

High Of 90 Seen Thursday

Nebraskans will have to be thankful for small blessings Thursday as the heat wave takes a brief rest and allows high temperatures to remain at a more comfortable level

The break in the hot weather, which is expected to last barely through Thursday, started Wednesday when high readings in the state did not rise above a 93 reading at the Lincoln airport This reading compared with temperatures of more than 100 which hovered over the state since Sunday.

The forecast was for temperatures to dip to as low as between 55 and 60 in the northeast and into the 60s in the south and west Wednesday night. Held down by cooler air from the north, high temperatures Thursday were expected to read in the 80s in the east to 90 in the extreme west.

The Panhandle area, which received cooling rains early Wednesday, was expected to receive widely scattered thundershowers early Thursday. There was the outlook for partly cloudy skies for the entire state Thursday.

Rains in the Panhandle included 1 18 inches at Scottsbluff and .66 of an inch at Sidney.

The relief will be short-lived The weatherman forecast higher temperatures to hit the state late Thursday and Friday. The corn crop, fortunately not yet in its critical tasseling stage, weathered the blistering heat wave fairly well.

At Madison, County Agent Don K. Wiles said the oats crop in Madison County had been damaged somewhat by the 100 plus heat but that it was still the best in recent years.

Water systems were taxed and electricity output reached new marks throughout Nebraska during the heat wave.

In Omaha, there were record demands on the city's utilities again Tuesday.

Water pumpage hit a new high of 103,600,000 gallons. Consumption was 107,780,000. Previous highs had been on Monday.

Ralph Trester, general manager of the Metropolitan Utilities District, said that despite the high demand the district had received few complaints on service.

The Omaha Public Power District reached a peak-hour demand of 214,300 kilowatts Tuesday. The Monday top was 211,600.

Omaha's 108-degree reading Tuesday was the hottest day in the city since July 25, 1940, and the highest mark for the day since 1890.

Lincoln's 108 Tuesday broke all records for July 13, and it was the hottest day there since June 15, 1946, when the mercury reached 109.

Knowland Opposes Flanders

. . . In Ouster Attempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's Republican leader, Sen. Knowland of California, announced Wednesday he will fight an attempt to oust Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) from his powerful committee chairmanships.

Knowland spoke out in the Senate after Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), who has been stalking McCarthy for several months, reported he thinks he has "an excellent chance"—and an improving one—to unseat the junior senator from Wisconsin.

Newsmen told Knowland later that they interpreted his remarks in the Senate as meaning that, regardless of how he does it, he will actively oppose Flanders on the McCarthy issue.

"That is correct," the majority leader replied. He has contended all along that Flanders is making a mistake and that his move could open a "Pandora's box" of trouble.

Flanders had called a news conference earlier to announce that while he hasn't actually counted noses he seems to be "in an encouraging atmosphere" when he discusses his ouster resolution with GOP colleagues.

"I seem to be encountering support," was the way the 76-year-old Vermonter put it.

Shortly afterward Flanders told the Senate the reason he is trying to unseat McCarthy from his chairmanships is "to put an end to the destructive forces in the power and influence" of the Wisconsin Republican.

Urban League Drops National Affiliation, Takes Malone Name

Trustees of the Lincoln Urban League announced Wednesday night that the name of that organization will be changed to the Malone Community Center, to commemorate the late Clyde Malone.

At the same time, the trustees stated that the League will no longer be an affiliate of the National Urban League. They pointed out that this change was made in light of the National League aims of solving racial problems in such things as housing and employment instead of operating a recreational community center.

"The action does not mean the local Urban League is not interested in the aims and purposes of the National Urban League but believes some other body could carry on these purposes better, such as the Council on Human Relations. . . ."

Mrs. Kathryn Lytle, president of the board, said the agency can now better emphasize needed recreational and social programs in the agency for all people in the neighborhood. The change in emphasis will be submitted for approval of the Community Chest and Council of Social Agencies.

The board also accepted the resignation of Sidney H. Alexander Jr., executive secretary, as of July 1.

Committee Hedges Ike's Home Mortgage Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees decided not to go along with President Eisenhower's request for equal mortgage terms on old and new housing bought with loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

The Conference Committee instead adopted a compromise of differing Senate and House versions under which existing housing would be eligible for 90 per cent FHA mortgage insurance on the first $9,000 of cost and 75 per cent of the balance, up to a maximum $20,000.

Repayment periods would run 30 years or 75 per cent of the estimated remaining life of the house whichever is smaller.

Eisenhower had asked that old housing eligible for FHA mortgage insurance get exactly the same morigage terms as new housing—that is, 95 per cent insurance for the first $9,000, 75 per cent for the remainder up to $20,000 and a 30-year term.

The Conference Committee, working to iron out all differences by Friday, also struck from the big housing bill a previously approved Senate provision which would have compelled builders to certify to the FHA that their construction was in complete conformity with plans and specifications submitted to the FHA.

Instead it adopted House language which simply requires a builder to certify that his construction was in "substantial" conformity with his specifications. Without the warranty, the home would not be eligible for FHA mortgage insurance.

Denver Cloudburst Damage $3 Million

DENVER (INS) — A half-hour rainstorm struck parched Denver Wednesday and caused an estimated three million dollars damage as water flooded the metropolitan area.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said an inch of rain slashed at the city during the 30-minute storm that finally diminished to a steady light rain. No casualties were reported.

The fury of the storm greatly resembled the cloudburst of a year ago (July 9) that lasted an hour and caused approximately three and a half million dollars damage.

Truck Crash Kills Driver

REPUBLICAN CITY, Neb (AP)—Leslie Lovenberg, 39, of Republican City was killed Wednesday when his gravel truck smashed into a ditch ½ mile north of here on temporary Highway No. 3.

Sheriff Ted Baker said Lovenberg's truck went out of control at the top of a hill on the gravel road, slid into a ditch and traveled about 150 feet before hitting a drainage ditch.

The sheriff said the truck flipped on its nose and Lovenberg's right side was crushed.

Lovenberg was a driver for the Olson Gravel Co of Alma He is survived by his widow and two sons.

It was Nebraska's 151st traffic fatality of the year, compared to 139 at this time in 1953.

7 YANKS HELD BY CZECHS MAY BE FREED SOON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Wednesday there is reason to hope that seven American soldiers seized July 4 by Czech border guards will be released "in the near future."

One of the seven is a Nebraskan. Pfc. George Switzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris S. Switzer of Milburn. The 21-year-old draftee entered the Army a year ago in July.

Department Press Officer Henry Suydam told a news conference that, as far as he knows, the Czech government has not withdrawn its charge that the seven soldiers were acting as spies.

School For Gyppers Charged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate housing investigators, turning briefly away from million dollar windfalls, heard testimony Wednesday that home repair salesmen were "trained and schooled" in ways to defraud small home owners.

Andrew Nicol, an investigator for the Bergen County, N. J., prosecutor's office, said the schools were set up "all over the country," and the home repair program, using FHA-insured loans, was operated in some cases as a "typical confidence game."

Fraudulent use of the home repair program, which still is in operation, was included in the charges which led the Eisenhower administration to start a full-scale probe of the Federal Housing Administration last April, but the Senate committee has given most of its attention to the more spectacular million dollar profits made under an expired postwar apartment building program.

Odds And Ends

In a day devoted to odds and ends, the committee also:

1. Heard that a former Home Loan Bank governor, James F. Twohy who retired in 1947, netted more than $45,000 from a $60 investment he made in 1950 in a Columbus, Ohio, apartment development which yielded its stockholders a total of $762,000 on a $4,000 investment.

2. Drew from Don A. Loftus, Wilmington, Del., builder formerly connected with Investors Diversified Services of Minneapolis, a statement that he received $197,000 from the Columbus project and $102,000 from one in Wilmington, Del., but not "one 5-cent piece" from two others in which he was interested.

'WRONG WAY' RAFT MAY BE SINKING

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The battered raft Lehi, adrift since Friday night in heavy seas off the California coast, flashed an SOS Wednesday night and requested immediate assistance

The distress message, intercepted by Mackay radio, said:

"Taking water. Bow opened by heavy sea. Need tow quick Sinking condition Raft Lehi"

The Lehi's weak radio message was first heard on the international distress frequency channel It was repeated over and over for five minutes, then started again and ended abruptly about five minutes later in the middle of the message.

The Coast Guard immediately dispatched the 125-foot cutter Alert from Morro Bay, about 200 miles south of San Francisco, and two Coast Guard planes took off and headed for the Lehi's last reported position.

Coast Guard officers estimated it would take four hours for the Alert to reach the Lehi in waters 20 to 25 miles off Point Arguello.

Oil Company Operator Hurt In Explosions

Flames, Smoke Shoot 300 Feet Into Air; Wiring Defect Cause

DAMAGE $15,000-$20,000

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

WESTON, Neb.—A thundering explosion of a bulk gasoline and oil plant slightly injured the plant's owner, James Hakel, 28, and rocked this small farming community Wednesday afternoon.

Fire Chief Ernest Churda of Weston said the blaze, touched off by faulty electric wiring in the Hakel Oil Co. warehouse, caused from $15,000 to $20,000 damage. He said the final damage figure will depend on a determination of how much oil and gasoline was in the tanks.

Churda said the faulty wiring touched off fumes from gasoline that Hakel had just finished loading onto a truck. Hakel attempted to drive his truck away from the fire, but the heat became too intense and he jumped to safety.

Hakel was treated at the Wahoo hospital for second degree burns about his upper left arm and face and was then released from the hospital.

Explosion Spread Fire

Shortly after the blaze flared in the gasoline fumes, one of Hakel's four storage tanks exploded, shaking the neighborhood. Flames and smoke shot nearly 300 feet into the air and touched off explosions in a vacant bulk plant across the street

Churda

The two tanks across the street belonged to the Saunders County Farmers Union. They were still filled with fumes which were ignited by the intense heat from the explosion.

A grain elevator, O'Connor Inc. feed mill, less than 100 yards away was threatened when a brisk northerly wind carried the heat and flames toward it. However, firemen were able to prevent the spread of the blaze to the O'Connor plant.

The blast blew one of the tanks at the Hakel Co. into the air where it turned end over end, coming to the ground upside down

Heavy Smoke

The fire threw a heavy black screen of smoke across the town and threatened to engulf other buildings, had it not been for protection provided by fire departments from Weston, Malmo, Wahoo, Prague, Valparaiso, David City and the Nebraska Ordnance Plant at Mead.

Two 300-pound tank covers were thrown nearly 100 yards from the exploding tanks. One struck the edge of the Weston depot but caused little damage.

There were four explosions altogether, three of them at the Hakel plant, where four tanks, a gasoline tank truck, a garage and a warehouse were destroyed. The other explosion was at the Farmers Union plant across the street, where two tanks and a warehouse were destroyed.

Power Cut Off

The fire was brought under control about an hour after the first call was received at 2:49 p.m. However Wednesday evening the gasoline from the tanks was still burning.

Fire Chief Churda said the fire knocked out a highline running past the fire scene, cutting off current with which to pump water. The Wahoo light department repaired the line before water ran out, however.

Churda said he thought the town was in for a "real fire for a while." A community of 400, Weston is located seven miles west and a mile south of Wahoo.

The sheriff said young Staples, who had been working in a hay field nearby, went to the lake to cool off. Tomjack said Staples jumped into the water from a diving board.

A fisherman nearby attempted unsuccessfully to save the youth

An unidentified girl lifeguard retrieved Staples' body after it had been in the water about 30 minutes.

Father Can't Stand Fatal Love Trial

. . . Small Collapses

ALLEGAN, Mich. (AP) — The father of Dr. Kenneth B. Small collapsed with a heart attack today shortly before he was to testify in his son's murder trial.

The doctor's 63-year-old mother testified, however, asserting her son, "didn't look the same" after his wife revealed she was in love with another man.

Jacob Small, 62-year-old retired gas station owner, collapsed and had to be carried from the packed courtroom during Defense Attorney Leo Hoffman's opening statement.

Hoffman said he would prove Dr. Small temporarily insane with jealousy when he shot and killed New York playboy Jules Lack last May 29 in the Lake Michigan home where the businessman was staying with Mrs. Small.

Small's mother, Lena, led off the list of defense witnesses, which Hoffman reduced sharply, believing he had scored strongly for the defendant through Tuesday's testimony of the dentist's wife, Edith.

The doctor's mother said "I never saw Kenneth excited in his life before" but that he was always excited after the mother of his three sons announced that she wanted a divorce because of Lack.

She said he began talking to himself and "after that first week he was crazy. He screamed and cried and I didn't know what he wanted."

The elderly woman described Kenneth as a model husband and father who had been brought up "to live nice, and he did" and who "never touched a drop" to drink until trouble with his wife over Lack.

Hoffman said he would prove Dr. Small temporarily insane with jealousy when he shot and killed New York playboy Jules Lack last May 29 in the Lake Michigan home where the businessman was staying with Mrs. Small.

Small's mother, Lena, led off the list of defense witnesses, which Hoffman reduced sharply, believing he had scored strongly for the defendant through Tuesday's testimony of the dentist's wife, Edith.

The doctor's mother said "I never saw Kenneth excited in his life before" but that he was always excited after the mother of his three sons announced that she wanted a divorce because of Lack.

She said he began talking to himself and "after that first week he was crazy. He screamed and cried and I didn't know what he wanted."

The elderly woman described Kenneth as a model husband and father who had been brought up "to live nice, and he did" and who "never touched a drop" to drink until trouble with his wife over Lack.

Urban League Drops National Affiliation, Takes Malone Name

Trustees of the Lincoln Urban League announced Wednesday night that the name of that organization will be changed to the Malone Community Center, to commemorate the late Clyde Malone.

At the same time, the trustees stated that the League will no longer be an affiliate of the National Urban League. They pointed out that this change was made in light of the National League aims of solving racial problems in such things as housing and employment instead of operating a recreational community center.

"The action does not mean the local Urban League is not interested in the aims and purposes of the National Urban League but believes some other body could carry on these purposes better, such as the Council on Human Relations. . . ."

Mrs. Kathryn Lytle, president of the board, said the agency can now better emphasize needed recreational and social programs in the agency for all people in the neighborhood. The change in emphasis will be submitted for approval of the Community Chest and Council of Social Agencies.

The board also accepted the resignation of Sidney H. Alexander Jr., executive secretary, as of July 1.

Committee Hedges Ike's Home Mortgage Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees decided not to go along with President Eisenhower's request for equal mortgage terms on old and new housing bought with loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

The Conference Committee instead adopted a compromise of differing Senate and House versions under which existing housing would be eligible for 90 per cent FHA mortgage insurance on the first $9,000 of cost and 75 per cent of the balance, up to a maximum $20,000.

Repayment periods would run 30 years or 75 per cent of the estimated remaining life of the house whichever is smaller.

Eisenhower had asked that old housing eligible for FHA mortgage insurance get exactly the same mortgage terms as new housing—that is, 95 per cent insurance for the first $9,000, 75 per cent for the remainder up to $20,000 and a 30-year term.

The Conference Committee, working to iron out all differences by Friday, also struck from the big housing bill a previously approved Senate provision which would have compelled builders to certify to the FHA that their construction was in complete conformity with plans and specifications submitted to the FHA.

Instead it adopted House language which simply requires a builder to certify that his construction was in "substantial" conformity with his specifications. Without the warranty, the home would not be eligible for FHA mortgage insurance.

Denver Cloudburst Damage $3 Million

DENVER (INS) — A half-hour rainstorm struck parched Denver Wednesday and caused an estimated three million dollars damage as water flooded the metropolitan area.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said an inch of rain slashed at the city during the 30-minute storm that finally diminished to a steady light rain. No casualties were reported.

The fury of the storm greatly resembled the cloudburst of a year ago (July 9) that lasted an hour and caused approximately three and a half million dollars damage.

Truck Crash Kills Driver

REPUBLICAN CITY, Neb. (AP)—Leslie Lovenberg, 39, of Republican City was killed Wednesday when his gravel truck smashed into a ditch ½ mile north of here on temporary Highway No. 3.

Sheriff Ted Baker said Lovenberg's truck went out of control at the top of a hill on the gravel road, slid into a ditch and traveled about 150 feet before hitting a drainage ditch.

The sheriff said the truck flipped on its nose and Lovenberg's right side was crushed.

Lovenberg was a driver for the Olson Gravel Co. of Alma. He is survived by his widow and two sons.

It was Nebraska's 151st traffic fatality of the year, compared to 139 at this time in 1953.

7 YANKS HELD BY CZECHS MAY BE FREED SOON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Wednesday there is reason to hope that seven American soldiers seized July 4 by Czech border guards will be released "in the near future."

One of the seven is a Nebraskan, Pfc. George Switzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris S. Switzer of Milburn. The 21-year-old draftee entered the Army a year ago in July.

Department Press Officer Henry Suydam told a news conference that, as far as he knows, the Czech government has not withdrawn its charge that the seven soldiers were acting as spies.

School For Gyppers Charged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate housing investigators, turning briefly away from million dollar windfalls, heard testimony Wednesday that home repair salesmen were "trained and schooled" in ways to defraud small home owners.

Andrew Nicol, an investigator for the Bergen County, N. J., prosecutor's office, said the schools were set up "all over the country," and the home repair program, using FHA-insured loans, was operated in some cases as a "typical confidence game."

Fraudulent use of the home repair program, which still is in operation, was included in the charges which led the Eisenhower administration to start a full-scale probe of the Federal Housing Administration last April, but the Senate committee has given most of its attention to the more spectacular million dollar profits made under an expired postwar apartment building program.

Odds And Ends

In a day devoted to odds and ends, the committee also:

1. Heard that a former Home Loan Bank governor, James F. Twohy who retired in 1947, netted more than $45,000 from a $60 investment he made in 1950 in a Columbus, Ohio, apartment development which yielded its stockholders a total of $762,000 on a $4,000 investment.

2. Drew from Don A. Loftus, Wilmington, Del., builder formerly connected with Investors Diversified Services of Minneapolis, a statement that he received $197,000 from the Columbus project and $102,000 from one in Wilmington, Del., but not "one 5-cent piece" from two others in which he was interested.

'WRONG WAY' RAFT MAY BE SINKING

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The battered raft Lehi, adrift since Friday night in heavy seas off the California coast, flashed an SOS Wednesday night and requested immediate assistance.

The distress message, intercepted by Mackay radio, said:

"Taking water. Bow opened by heavy seas. Need tow quick. Sinking condition. Raft Lehi."

The Lehi's weak radio message was first heard on the international distress frequency channel. It was repeated over and over for five minutes, then started again and ended abruptly about five minutes later in the middle of the message.

The Coast Guard immediately dispatched the 125-foot cutter Alert from Morro Bay, about 200 miles south of San Francisco, and two Coast Guard planes took off and headed for the Lehi's last reported position.

Coast Guard officers estimated it would take four hours for the Alert to reach the Lehi in waters 20 to 25 miles off Point Arguello.

Lake Claims Butte Youth

ATKINSON, Neb. (AP)—An 18-year-old youth who officers said was unable to swim jumped into 11 feet of water here and drowned.

Sheriff Leo Tomjack said the victim was Chester J. Staples, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Staples Jr., of Butte.

The sheriff said young Staples, who had been working in a hay field nearby, went to the lake to cool off. Tomjack said Staples jumped into the water from a diving board.

A fisherman nearby attempted unsuccessfully to save the youth.

An unidentified girl lifeguard retreived Staples' body after it had been in the water about 30 minutes.

Modern-Day Harvesting The Old-Fashioned Way

This scene will bring back a nostalgic memory to many "old-timers." And it was taken Wednesday, not 20 years ago. Using the old-time threshing machine are Nebraska penitentiary inmates, as they reap the harvest of oats on the Penitentiary's farm. Pen officials explain they stick by the old-fashioned way because (1) combines are expensive and (2) they have no manpower problem. (Star Photo.)

Summer Orchestra At U Of N Turns In Brilliant Performance

By RUTH ARDIS

The University of Nebraska summer orchestra, which is composed largely of teachers doing graduate work, presented a concert Wednesday night. As usual Conductor Emanuel Wishnow inspired his players to a brilliant performance. Although it was billed as a pop concert, it was definitely an ambitious one for the musicians who had already put in a full day playing for the music reading clinic.

The opening selection—the popular "Egmont Overture" by Beethoven — was exceptionally played. The transparency of the Symphony in C Minor by Bizet makes it a difficult work to perform, but the "teacher's orchestra" responded to the expressive conducting of Mr. Wishnow and gave a fine performance of this comparatively unknown work.

The second part of the program was more typical of summer concert fare. Two of the numbers were in the Spanish vein, but neither was written by a Spaniard—"Espana" by the Frenchman Chabrier and "Capriccio Espagnol" by the Russian Rimsky-Korsakov. The latter work featured cadenzas which were exceptionally well played by Joan Szydlowski, violinist and Bill Krause, flutist.

An interesting contrast between the two Spanish numbers was Delius' impressionistic work, "The Walk to Paradis Garden." This selection was an excellent choice for the program since this summer orchestra has a fine woodwind section. The blend and timbre of the instruments portrayed the emotional intensity which has made Delius famous as a poet with emotion, vision, and feeling for sound.

The audience was very enthusiastic, recalling Mr. Wishnow several times. Many of the listeners rated this as the best summer symphony in several years.

An outstanding presentation will be given Friday night at 8:30 when the University Summer Chorus will present the folk opera, "The Devil and Daniel Webster" at the Howell Memorial Theatre.

Reller Asks Land Valuation Be Declared 'Void And Illegal'

Merril R. Reller, Lincoln attorney, has filed suit in Lancaster District Court seeking to have the re-appraisal made of all Lancaster County real estate be declared illegal and void.

In his petition, Reller also asks that the defendants "be required to return all sums paid under the re-appraisal scheme to the county treasury."

Defendants named in the suit are Russell Brehm, Chris Kuhner and Chauncey E. Barney, as Board of Equalization members; Assessor Arthur M. Davis, and E. T. Wilkins and Associates.

Valuations Hit

Reller alleges "valuation placed (on his lands) . . . is grossly excessive, arbitrary and value has been fixed by illegal methods.

"Valuations of real property were drastically reduced on favored real estate, and other property, including the described (plaintiff's) property, was excessively valued," he charges.

The re-appraisal "is part of a scheme and plan of defendants whereby large amounts of tax money (was) paid out of the county treasury to some of the defendants . . ." he alleges.

The "excessive valuation was in part caused by E. T. Wilkins and Associates, who claimed to be appraisal experts," but who "employed children and incompetents" in the re-appraisal work, Reller alleges.

Re-Appraisal Asked

Plaintiff asks the re-appraisal be declared "illegal and void" as to his property and all others and that "appraisals in effect prior to 1954 to be (declared) the legal valuation for tax purposes."

In the alternative, Reller asks the court to "determine the proper appraisal" of five properties described in the petition.

Protests against the 1954 assessed valuation of these properties were made to the county Board of Equalization by Reller.

Protest No.	1954	1953	Action

Pipeline Low Bid $145,200

The Chambers Construction Co. has submitted the low bid of $145,200 at the City Hall for construction of a water distribution line from the city's 51st Street pumping station to 70th and Ballard.

The line will serve Havelock, a part of University Place and the Goodyear plant. Route of the new line will be from 51st with a 24-inch main in Ballard to 56th, from 56th to 63rd with a 16-inch main and 63rd to 70th and Ballard with a 12-inch main.

Branches will be consructed from that man stem. The work is part of the overall $8.5 million water expansion program and another step in plans to make 51st Street the ultimate distribution center for everything north of O St.

Lancaster Spends $219,868 For Mail Route Roads

Lancaster County spent $219,868.13 in special mail route road funds during the fiscal year ending June 30, according to a report approved by the County Board.

The fund is derived by the county as its distributive share of the state gasoline tax funds.

The unexpended balance for the 1953-54 fiscal year was $161,545.02 as compared with $93,773.79 for the 1952-53 fiscal year. Receipts for the year were $287,639.36 as against an expenditure of $219,868.13.

The breakdown of expenditures includes $151,534.36 for 102.6 miles of new graveling and 129 miles of maintenance gravel; $12,037.54 for 12.82 miles of grading, and $56,476.18 as contributive share of federal-aid secondary road construction.

Heat Hikes City Power, Light Load

A shortage of electric power teamed up with a high water demand to double the troubles of the city's A Street Water and Light Department plant.

Plant Superintendent Fred Blumer stated that in the face of Tuesday's water demand of 31,021,000 gallons, the electric load at the plant was so great that some of the pumps on local water wells had to be shut down. The electric load, he said, was just too great to carry everything.

Blumer credited this increased electric load to more air conditioning and electric fans. It is the same thing, he said, that is being experienced all over the state and nation.

With demand for water high and the local wells cut down, the city's water reservoirs were three feet below normal Wednesday morning. Blumer declined to speculate on what action might be necessary should the high water and power demand continue.

It is expected, however, that some cut in air conditioning use might be made mandatory to cut down on both water and power demands.

Reller alleges "valuation placed (on his lands) . . . is grossly excessive, arbitrary and value has been fixed by illegal methods.

"Valuations of real property were drastically reduced on favored real estate, and other property, including the described (plaintiff's) property, was excessively valued," he charges.

The re-appraisal "is part of a scheme and plan of defendants whereby large amounts of tax money (was) paid out of the county treasury to some of the defendants . . ." he alleges.

The "excessive valuation was in part caused by E. T. Wilkins and Associates, who claimed to be appraisal experts," but who "employed children and incompetents" in the re-appraisal work, Reller alleges.

Re-Appraisal Asked

Plaintiff asks the re-appraisal be declared "illegal and void" as to his property and all others and that "appraisals in effect prior to 1954 to be (declared) the legal valuation for tax purposes."

In the alternative, Reller asks the court to "determine the proper appraisal" of five properties described in the petition.

Protests against the 1954 assessed valuation of these properties were made to the county Board of Equalization by Reller.

Protest No.	1954	1953	Action
274 A	$73,000	$18,475	$57,535
274 B	1,925	1,300	no chg.
274 C	2,155	1,950	no chg.
274 D	15,400	13,685	no chg.

Pipeline Low Bid $145,200

The Chambers Construction Co. has submitted the low bid of $145,200 at the City Hall for construction of a water distribution line from the city's 51st Street pumping station to 70th and Ballard.

The line will serve Havelock, a part of University Place and the Goodyear plant. Route of the new line will be from 51st with a 24-inch main in Ballard to 56th, from 56th to 63rd with a 16-inch main and 63rd to 70th and Ballard with a 12-inch main.

Branches will be consructed from that man stem. The work is part of the overall $8.5 million water expansion program and another step in plans to make 51st Street the ultimate distribution center for everything north of O St.

Lancaster Spends $219,868 For Mail Route Roads

Lancaster County spent $219,868.13 in special mail route road funds during the fiscal year ending June 30, according to a report approved by the County Board.

The fund is derived by the county as its distributive share of the state gasoline tax funds.

The unexpended balance for the 1953-54 fiscal year was $161,545.02 as compared with $93,773.79 for the 1952-53 fiscal year. Receipts for the year were $287,639.36 as against an expenditure of $219,868.13.

The breakdown of expenditures includes $151,534.36 for 102.6 miles of new graveling and 129 miles of maintenance gravel; $12,037.54 for 12.82 miles of grading, and $56,476.18 as contributive share of federal-aid secondary road construction.

Summer Orchestra At U Of N Turns In Brilliant Performance

By RUTH ARDIS

The University of Nebraska summer orchestra, which is composed largely of teachers doing graduate work, presented a concert Wednesday night. As usual Conductor Emanuel Wishnow inspired his players to a brilliant performance. Although it was billed as a pop concert, it was definitely an ambitious one for the musicians who had already put in a full day playing for the music reading clinic.

The opening selection—the popular "Egmont Overture" by Beethoven — was exceptionally played. The transparency of the Symphony in C Minor by Bizet makes it a difficult work to perform, but the "teacher's orchestra" responded to the expressive conducting of Mr. Wishnow and gave a fine performance of this comparatively unknown work.

The second part of the program was more typical of summer concert fare. Two of the numbers were in the Spanish vein, but neither was written by a Spaniard—"Espana" by the Frenchman Chabrier and "Capriccio Espagnol" by the Russian Rimsky-Korsakov. The latter work featured cadenzas which were exceptionally well played by Joan Szydlowski, violinist and Bill Krause, flutist.

An interesting contrast between the two Spanish numbers was Delius' impressionistic work, "The Walk to Paradis Garden." This selection was an excellent choice for the program since this summer orchestra has a fine woodwind section. The blend and timbre of the instruments portrayed the emotional intensity which has made Delius famous as a poet with emotion, vision, and feeling for sound.

The audience was very enthusiastic, recalling Mr. Wishnow several times. Many of the listeners rated this as the best summer symphony in several years.

An outstanding presentation will be given Friday night at 8:30 when the University Summer Chorus will present the folk opera, "The Devil and Daniel Webster" at the Howell Memorial Theatre.

Heat Hikes City Power, Light Load

A shortage of electric power teamed up with a high water demand to double the troubles of the city's A Street Water and Light Department plant.

Plant Superintendent Fred Blumer stated that in the face of Tuesday's water demand of 31,021,000 gallons, the electric load at the plant was so great that some of the pumps on local water wells had to be shut down. The electric load, he said, was just too great to carry everything.

Blumer credited this increased electric load to more air conditioning and electric fans. It is the same thing, he said, that is being experienced all over the state and nation.

With demand for water high and the local wells cut down, the city's water reservoirs were three feet below normal Wednesday morning. Blumer declined to speculate on what action might be necessary should the high water and power demand continue.

It is expected, however, that some cut in air conditioning use might be made mandatory to cut down on both water and power demands.

Off Again, On Again

One must be versatile and glib these days to stay up with the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy and especially agile to keep in time with its about faces. It is getting to be a day to day job—almost an hour-to-hour one.

For example, the U.S. was well anchored on one sure thing last week. It was not going to be represented at the Geneva peace conference. It was displeased with the French retreat from American requirements in Indo-China and would not dignify such a peace parley with even the hint of approval.

Monday Secretary Dulles made off post-haste for Paris where British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and France's Mendes-France are holding discussions prior to the Geneva conference.

That was a little hard to explain. But in leaving, Dulles paused long enough to assure the American people that U.S. policy had not changed. The Geneva conference was still out of bounds.

Thursday the newspapers carried an administration statement that Under-secretary Bedell Smith, of the State Department, will go to Geneva for the showdown phase of the Indo-China peace conference.

We will leave it to the reader to explain to his neighbor the fine points of this swift reversal. But the fact remains that arguments that were established day before yesterday no longer apply.

The whirly-bird behavior of our foreign policy makers leaves everyone groping for words. But it cannot be gainsaid that it is far better to have a man on the grounds during the Indo-China peace parley than not. Whether the negotiations are or are not to our liking we have a vital stake in them and it would be as novel as it would be dangerous to walk away from interests that are so important to world security and our own welfare.

U.S. Highway Dollars

When Congress recently passed the new Federal Highway Act it committed $875 million to cover two years of grants to the states. This was in contrast to $575 million set aside by the act two years ago and represents an increase of $300 million or approximately 52 per cent more than the 1952 appropriation.

This is a substantial increase to be granted by a Congress that has declared itself devoted to budget reduction.

It means that Nebraska may receive $13,939,000 between 1956 and 1957 provided its taxpayers can dig up the matching funds.

Why all this generosity?

According to State Government, the magazine devoted to the affairs of state administrations and public officials, there is nothing unusually generous at all about it. The greater grants will help relieve a highway problem, but they serve equally significantly to remind the American people how big and how serious their highway program has become in recent years.

In its June issue the magazine says:

"Existing deficiencies in the highway system result in part from effects of war and the postwar inflationary period. During the war years highway construction and maintenance were at a minimum. Despite the reduction in traffic during this period roads suffered the effects of wear and weather. Then in the early post-war years there was a tendency to delay major highway projects in the belief that costs would come down. Costs however, continued at a high level, thus reducing the amount of work that could be accomplished with each dollar of highway expenditure."

That much is familiar to every attentive citizen.

But the obsolescence of the America highway system is not alone due to decay and cutbacks. A major phenomenon has been developing out on the roads indicative of the new America.

The magazine goes on to say:

"A major cause for the constantly growing need for more and better roads is the continual increase in the number of cars, trucks and busses on the highways. The number of motor vehicles in the nation has increased from slightly over 34 million in 1946 to 56,279, 864 in 1953. The number of vehicle miles was estimated in 1953 to be 540 billion—50 per cent more than in 1946."

In the light of such figures it is clear why this week President Eisenhower proposed a $50 billion federal aid national highway program to the state governors meeting currently at Bolton Landing, N. Y.

But it is also clear that comparable with the federal government the states are facing greatly increasing budgets if they are to gear their highway systems to present day demands.

In these agricultural states, of which Nebraska is a shining example, this problem is complicated by the present pressures to reduce its output of food and to sell less production at lower prices. It appears that there are two trains rushing head on toward each other on the economic track. It is a bad time to be handed a bill for much greater public expenditures to which a directive is attached demanding less income. If both stand unchanged the future Nebraska highway dollar is going to be lots harder to come by than in recent years.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

PALOS VERDES, Calif.—Two casual news stories in recent days . . . they dealt with two former Presidents of the United States . . . each one living . . . In office each was subjected to bitter criticism . . . out of office each has lived to feel the warmth of America's great heart.

Over in West Branch, Ia., great preparations are being made to celebrate the 80th birthday anniversary of Herbert Hoover, former President and venerated American citizen. All Iowa will participate in a clambake liberally flavored with affection, come August. It was to West Branch that Mr. Hoover journeyed in 1928 to deliver an address in response to the notification ceremonies that followed his nomination by a Republican national convention. He spoke in happy spirit of his recollections of "aunty's wonderful cooking" and of other Iowa boyhood experiences. On the occasion of his 80th birthday he will receive an honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of Iowa, one of innumerable such recognitions but one which undoubtedly will please Mr. Hoover more because of the sentimentality associated with it. The story brought back a flock of memories to me. We recall that night in Cleveland on the lake shore when the former President thrilled a vast audience with his address based upon rugged individualism. We remember the scenes of his return to the wars in Philadelphia and in Chicago. They all emphasize the fact that one of the most precious rights in this country—yes, most precious—is the right to disagree in good spirit and full understanding.

Mr. Hoover got his bumps in office and for years it seemed to me that every public appearance he made involved a plea for understanding of his motives and purposes. All of that will be taken care of by the cold judgment delivered by history. But it is good to know that in this country there is a warmth and a humanness which we assume exists in varying degrees in other lands but cannot be excelled in the extent to which it crops out here.

In the cool breeze on a terrace overlooking the ocean, we read and later heard an announcement that former President Harry S. Truman, recovering rapidly from a critical illness, had given the green light to the construction of a memorial library to house his official papers. The site is Independence, Mo. A fund of $750,000 has been contributed for the construction of the memorial, and as a result of Mr. Truman's recent sickness, more contributions were pouring in. Since the former President submitted to surgery, more than 100,000 telegrams and letters voicing prayers for his early recovery had reached Kansas City. In the face of the savage criticism Mr. Truman experienced in the closing months of his administration, that is a rather remarkable outpouring from the people of the country. It suggests that aside from the normal, natural controversies men who bear the burdens of the presidency frequently encounter, there is ultimately a more intelligent verdict. Mr. Truman had to make some tough decisions. It was he who had to assume responsibility for the atom bomb destruction of two Japanese cities. It was he who had to decide events in South Korea. It was he who had to give the signal for development of the hydrogen bomb. His papers are a gold mine of historic significance.

Truman's Choice Is Independence

We play hard, we fight in the same spirit, and then near the close of a day it seems that we are given to more rational meditation. Here are two men who for a brief period were leaders of two great political parties, frequently engaged in the violent conflict of ideas and at all times steeped with partisanship. But in that atmosphere there comes a time when old sores are much less painful and a people—a free people—answerable only to their individual consciences—become more generous in their estimates.

We Are Changing

Game and wildlife representatives from the upper Missouri Basin states have completed a conference in Omaha where the subject was the maximum development of recreation in and around the great new bodies of water that are resulting from the Army's multi-purpose dams.

Nebraska was represented by Paul Gilbert director of our game, forestation and parks commission.

Such meetings remind us all that the upper Missouri basin is changing profoundly. The once so-called dry states of Nebraska, the Dakotas, Wyoming and Montana are adding great bodies of water. Nebraska itself, which has so long looked and gone elsewhere for lake recreation is awakening to the fact that the past two decades, through reclamation, has given it more acre feet of water than many of the states to which its recreation minded people are continuing to go. Now the great Missouri dams will produce bodies of water that will dwarf even Nebraska's considerable development.

Ultimately as all of these waters are wisely cultivated, the area will become one of the great recreation centers of America. Added to the massive benefits of flood control, irrigation and electric power, this one of great hunting and fishing development will provide the region with an asset whose value is inestimable.

Business Gets Twice Agriculture's Aid

WASHINGTON—Few people have ever seen the budget of the United States. Some people think it's merely an ethereal set of figures that Congress debates about every year. Actually, however, it's about the size of a New York phone book and just about as dull. The last few pages, however, are extremely significant and ought to be paraded on the Senate floor during the debate on so-called farm subsidies.

For these figures show the amount of subsidies paid to farmers, veterans, businessmen, and others. Highest subsidy, of course, is listed as paid to veterans in the form of bonuses and hospitalization, totaling $4,214,000,000 in 1953.

What may surprise some people, however, is that the subsidy paid to businessmen is about twice as much as that paid to farmers. Farmers got $523,000,000 for soil conservation, price supports, and other government help in 1953; whereas businessmen got $1,216,000,000.

This aid to business, incidentally, was not to small businessmen. It was to upper-bracket business which has yelled so loud about "creeping socialism" yet spent so much money lobbying Congress into voting more money for "galloping favoritism."

They include "helpless little groups" like the United States Steel Corporation, the big utility companies, and some of the big shipping companies.

HUMPHREY GOT TAX WRITE-OFF

Here, for instance, are some of the subsidies big business has been able to obtain—in contrast to farmers' price supports.

The M. A. Hanna Company, one of the biggest iron and steel holding companies in the USA, largely owned and operated by George Humphrey before he became secretary of the treasury, got more than $22,000,000 in tax subsidees just a few weeks before he entered the cabinet. The Hanna Coal and Ore Co., one of his subsidiaries, got a 75 per cent depreciation on an $11,345,000 iron-ore investment in Minnesota and another 70 per cent tax write-off on a $22,000,000 nickel plant in Oregon. The two plants were permitted to depreciate 70 and 75 per cent of their value in five years instead of about 25 years.

These tax write-offs were rushed through during the last few weeks of the Truman administration so Humphrey's company would not be embarrassed by asking for them when he became secretary of the treasury later.

Today the new tax bill gives the same kind of quick depreciation tax write-offs to other types of big business, and Randolph Paul, former general counsel of the treasury and author of "Taxation In The United States," has told congressmen this tax subsidy will cost the public $40,000,000,000 in the next 17 years. In contrast, when a farmer builds a barn he gets no tax write-off, but must spread his depreciation over a period of about 30 years.

UTILITY SUBSIDIES

The big utility companies spend an average of half a million dollars a year on their lobby to influence Congress. At least that's the amount they register officially with Congress. Today this appears to be reaping dividends. One utility combine, Dixon-Yates, has just put across by special order of President Eisenhower a 25-year contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, despite the opposition of a majority of AEC commissioners.

Under this order, Dixon-Yates will invest only $5,300,000 cash, be guaranteed a 9 per cent return by Uncle Sam; will own the plant at the end of 25 years; and will get the benefit of an annual $3,600,000 overcharge made up by the taxpayers for the difference between what they would have to pay TVA instead of Dixon-Yates.

This was why Congressman Holifield of California, a member of the Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, calls this not "creeping socialism" but "galloping federal favoritism."

In contrast the farmer is guaranteed no 90 per cent return on his investment. He has been guaranteed 90 per cent of the price paid during a cross-section average of previous years.

MORE GRAVY

Here are some of the other subsidies to business to which U.S. budget refers when it shows that business annually gets about twice the subsidy given to farmers:

Certain airlines get between $70,000,000 and $95,000,000 annually for carrying the mail. On top of this the taxpayers have paid for radar, lighting beacons and other safety aids for the airlines totaling $21,361,040 in 1951, $13,007,035 in 1952, and $7,000,000 in 1953. Taxpayers also paid $73,931,733 for personnel to operate these safety aids in 1951, plus $80,484,761 in 1952, plus about $105,000,000 in 1953. In addition, another $37,000,000 and $16000,000 went for runways and construction work at airports in 1951-52 and another $19,821,000 in 1953.

The shipping companies also get an average of around $30,000,000 a year in subsidies to operate their vessels: the United States Lines got a construction subsidy of $18,225,000, plus a national defense subsidy of $24,061,000 for building the SS United States; while the Grace lines and Moore-McCormick are being voted subsidies for four new vessels by the current Congress.

These vessels will be turned over to the United States in time of war and this subsidy policy may be a wise one. Also, it is important to keep U.S. airlines operating around the world. But likewise, the American farmer has to feed a good part of the world in case of war and he, like the shipping and airplane companies, can't contract and expand his economy for peace or wars without facing economic chaos.

Governors Cautious On Ike's Highway Program

BOLTON LANDING, N. Y.—The governors' conference, where Republicans outnumber Democrats 29 to 19, is replying "well, maybe" to President Eisenhower's proposal for a 50-billion-dollar "grand plan" of highway construction. Almost surely they will approve a resolution for a special conference in Washington next fall to talk it over.

This curious political reaction stems from the incredible clumsiness and self-assurance with which the White House handled the proposal.

Though they were dealing with their closest friends, they sprung the huge project as a surprise. Furthermore, governors' conferences have been discussing the same subject for years and criticizing the federal government's domination of the field. In fact, barely eight hours before Vice President Nixon read the President's notes, the governors were burning up Congress for passing a 500-million-dollar highway bill without consulting them.

Apparently nobody read the newspapers which were put aboard the President's plush plane, the Columbine, before it took off from Washington with the vice president for the conference here. Nor, apparently, did anyone bother to case the joint after arrival here in the early afternoon.

This despite the fact that also aboard the Columbine were Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, a former governor who has voted for previous conference resolutions on highways, and Presidential Press Secretary Jim Hagerty, who attended governors' conferences for years as press secretary to Gov. Dewey of New York.

Besides this, here since Sunday night and on the program were two cabinet members — Interior Secretary Douglas McKay, also a former governor, and Health Secretary Oveta Hobby — and Meyer Kestenbaum, chairman of the president's Committee on Federal-State Relationships. And the conference chairman is Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, the President's backer and golfing companion.

Thornton was surprised. He was also upset, viewing the programs, as offered with no preparation, as seemingly extravagant, hazy and embarrassing to the President's friends in the light of conference history.

Thornton appealed immediately to Sherman Adams after Nixon spoke, and they devised a "clarifying statement." It stresses Eisenhower's devotion to federal-state co-operation and says the problem has been given to the governors.

Thornton's valiant attempts to help out were not altogether successful. He pointed out that the states and federal government were already spending about 4 billion dollars yearly on highways, so the President's 5 billion a year was little more. Unfortunately he had forgotten that the President's notes referred to the 5 billion dollars yearly as being "in addition to current expenditures."

The total, instantly leaping to mind, of 90 billion dollars on highways in ten years led to some humor about the New Deal, and the famous Harry Hopkins line was revived—"We shall spend and spend and spend, tax and tax and tax, elect and elect and elect."

The program, its pre-election timing, its job-making appeal—all these are New Deal hallmarks, or so Republicans have always contended.

Nonetheless, New Dealers who act on principle can only rejoice the the President has begun to note America's fabulous expansion and is willing to educate people to it. It is disheartening that he merely mentioned the need for schools and offered a federal program only for roads. But the roads are needed for the economy and national defense both.

Another storm is brewing here and it is purely political. Gov. Thornton has appointed the bitter Eisenhower Democrat, Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina, as chairman of the nominating committee of 5, with another Southern Democrat, Gov. William Umstead of North Carolina, and three Republicans.

Democrats hear that Byrnes and Sherman Adams talked and came up with the bright idea of nominating another Eisenhower Democrat, Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, as chairman of the next conference. It is a Democrat's turn.

This calculated insult to former President Truman and Adlai Stevenson will be fought in executive session if it materializes.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Greatest Boxer Since Dempsey

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

A Peruvian boxer who calls himself Lucho De Norden, "Fighter of Norden," is planning to start roadwork soon, after a long layoff.

His training camp is at the Carl Norden, Jr. home at 4827 Franklin. This boxer is owned by the syndicate of Steve and Carl Norden III.

An Army colonel first recognized the qualities of the boxer while stationed in South America. Lucho, who has a mixed ancestry of German, American, Peruvian and Argentinian blood, is a big, muscular but quick boxer.

He is a temperamental, moody fellow when left alone. When his owners leave him alone at home, this strong boy picks up a pair of shoes and begins to chew on them.

Every year Lucho goes with his two brothers to a Minnesota farm where he enjoys the life away from the city. He likes cows and other livestock. Taking life easy, he often walks through the Minnesota fields and as a favorite sport likes to kill snakes. This boxer is afraid of nothing.

Lucho, one might say, is a born boxer. In fact, both his mother and father were boxers. His grandfather and great grandfather were also boxers, as were his grandmother and great grandmother.

The one sore point that the boxer has is that he has never been in the ring. His road work is done from the back seat of the Norden family car. His training consists of simple obedience to his two young owners.

'LUCHO' and CARL NORDEN III . . . roadwork from the car seat . . .

Yet of all the great boxers, from Dempsey to Marciano, owners Steve and Carl III regard their boy as the best of them all.

WATER AND THE WEST

California Finds New 'Gold'

By J. E. LAWRENCE

PALOS VERDES, Calif. — I picked up the morning paper after a lazy week end. I must confess that after reading a brief dispatch, my thoughts have been pretty much on my home state.

An Associated Press dispatch told of a sizzling 114 degrees at Burwell far up on the North Loup, 113 at Norfolk, and readings ranging from 105 to 110 at other points.

Thirty miles out from the heart of the third largest city in the United States—perched high up on the cliffs overlooking the Pacific—a breeze cool enough in the bright sunshine to make a heavy jacket comfortable—a low fog hugging the distant shoreline—I tried to visualize what all this loveliness would be without water brought from the lower Colorado.

There are enough wacky people doing wacky things to fill a book here in California. Down on the beaches figuratively only a stone's throw away, thousands sun themselves on the sands or splash in the surf, clad in as little as the law allows. The hills are brown and bleak as they are in the dead of Nebraska's winters, except where watered. And where watered, they are as green and lush as the tropics, aflame with the colors of blooming flowers. From the terrace where I have been gazing out to sea, I can count more than 50 varieties of blooming shrubs and plants, ranging from crimson and pink roses to a score of exotic species which thrive in this land of fog and sunshine.

However, there is one thing to be said for California—perhaps grudgingly because of the big buildup so much a part of it. It has a leadership, a political leadership which understands the value of water. A state whose shoreline is fringed by the greatest mass of salt water on the globe never loses a chance to exploit to the fullest every available drop of fresh water to be had. I have started to check the daily and yearly consumption of water withdrawn from the great lake back of Hoover Dam on the Colorado and carried by aqueduct to a famished, never satisfied community when it comes to water—a community which covers one big county, is the home of millions of people and is the center of a growing industrial area providing more and more thousands of jobs.

The last time I was here, four years ago, I talked with a dreamy young Will Rogers who on that particular afternoon was thinking about the waters of the Green River more than 350 miles away. They had had an abnormal rainy season starting earlier in December and lasting longer than usual. A year ago nature was also generous to a region of fantastically light rainfall. But they know what water means out here and after flippancy has worn off, they will talk seriously of the one foremost element vital to what southern California regards as its appointed destiny.

Without irrigation for these rich, productive valleys, I doubt that California would be in the 10 select states in the aggregate of agricultural income or anywhere near shouting distance of it. Water has replaced the exhausted gold strikes which sent thousands across Nebraska during the middle years of the last century.

What Nebraska needs most and in increasing degree in the future will need is a political leadership fully aware of the role of water in relationship to its pocketbook. In 20 years the state has made a great deal of progress. But I fear that progress has failed to capture the imagination of great numbers of its people—has taken place without full appreciation of the citizens—with resulting natural confusion.

In terms of political leadership in Nebraska, the gratifying expansion of well irrigation calls for thought with relation to the underground water table. Nor have we taken the full steps in storage of waste water and flood waters that our own well-being suggests.

One of the most significant developments following the death of Sen. Hugh Butler took place in Washington last week. Sen. Guy Cordon of Oregon became head of the important Senate Committee on Interior Affairs as a result of seniority rule, the post Sen. Butler had filled. If my memory serves me, I do not think Sen. Cordon will be helpful to irrigation development in much of this western country. I have the notion he is a stickler for the so-called "basin account" program which could invoke a rigid, harsh, uncompromising formula for determination of river basin development.

A committee chairman is a powerful figure in the determination of policy. Cordon is up for re-election in the fall, opposed by a vigorous young fellow who has been knocking around in Oregon politics for 10 years. It could be a battle.

Before this appears, it is to be hoped that the heat has broken. I bumped into a young chap, Tom Jones, a former Nebraskan, doing well out here. He told me he had been home two weeks ago but that the third day the heat sent him scurrying back to the coast. But it is hot in the sun here, and downtown Los Angeles 30 miles away has sweltered.

Here it is peaceful and quiet—the rumble of traffic along the Pacific highway some 200 feet below and a half mile distant barely audible.

It so happened that the holiday following the Fourth was free of fog. We could look to the lights of the downtown area — a sea of lights—then up the coast beyond Santa Monica — each suburban area — Redondo, Manhattan Beach, Venice, Santa Monica and points in between each seeking to outdo the other in a display of fireworks.

It was beautiful, but just now the most welcome sight would be a dispatch telling of an old-fashioned gulley-washer in Nebraska. There is no finer music than raindrops beating against the roof.

THE RUNAWAY

The man who runs when he should stand
May live again to fight,
But he will seldom raise his hand
Once more a wrong to right.

When comes that moment to decide
Whether to stay or run,
Just one more blow may turn the tide
And victory may be won.

Off Again, On Again

One must be versatile and glib these days to stay up with the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy and especially agile to keep in time with its about faces. It is getting to be a day to day job—almost an hour-to-hour one.

For example, the U.S. was well anchored on one sure thing last week. It was not going to be represented at the Geneva peace conference. It was displeased with the French retreat from American requirements in Indo-China and would not dignify such a peace parley with even the hint of approval.

Monday Secretary Dulles made off post-haste for Paris where British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and France's Mendes-France are holding discussions prior to the Geneva conference.

That was a little hard to explain. But in leaving, Dulles paused long enough to assure the American people that U.S. policy had not changed. The Geneva conference was still out of bounds.

Thursday the newspapers carried an administration statement that Under-secretary Bedell Smith, of the State Department, will go to Geneva for the showdown phase of the Indo-China peace conference.

We will leave it to the reader to explain to his neighbor the fine points of this swift reversal. But the fact remains that arguments that were established day before yesterday no longer apply.

The whirly-bird behaviour of our foreign policy makers leaves everyone groping for words. But it cannot be gainsaid that it is far better to have a man on the grounds during the Indo-China peace parley than not. Whether the negotiations are or are not to our liking we have a vital stake in them and it would be as novel as it would be dangerous to walk away from interests that are so important to world security and our own welfare.

U.S. Highway Dollars

When Congress recently passed the new Federal Highway Act it committed $875 million to cover two years of grants to the states. This was in contrast to $575 million set aside by the act two years ago and represents an increase of $300 million or approximately 52 per cent more than the 1952 appropriation.

This is a substantial increase to be granted by a Congress that has declared itself devoted to budget reduction.

It means that Nebraska may receive $13,939,000 between 1956 and 1957 provided its taxpayers can dig up the matching funds.

Why all this generosity?

According to State Government, the magazine devoted to the affairs of state administrations and public officials, there is nothing unusually generous at all about it. The greater grants will help relieve a highway problem, but they serve equally significantly to remind the American people how big and how serious their highway program has become in recent years.

In its June issue the magazine says:

"Existing deficiencies in the highway system result in part from effects of war and the postwar inflationary period. During the war years highway construction and maintenance were at a minimum. Despite the reduction in traffic during this period roads suffered the effects of wear and weather. Then in the early post-war years there was a tendency to delay major highway projects in the belief that costs would come down. Costs however, continued at a high level, thus reducing the amount of work that could be accomplished with each dollar of highway expenditure."

That much is familiar to every attentive citizen.

But the obsolescence of the America highway system is not alone due to decay and cutbacks. A major phenomenon has been developing out on the roads indicative of the new America.

The magazine goes on to say:

"A major cause for the constantly growing need for more and better roads is the continual increase in the number of cars, trucks and busses on the highways. The number of motor vehicles in the nation has increased from slightly over 34 million in 1946 to 56,279, 864 in 1953. The number of vehicle miles was estimated in 1953 to be 540 billion—50 per cent more than in 1946."

In the light of such figures it is clear why this week President Eisenhower proposed a $50 billion federal aid national highway program to the state governors meeting currently at Bolton Landing, N. Y.

But it is also clear that comparable with the federal government the states are facing greatly increasing budgets if they are to gear their highway systems to present day demands.

In these agricultural states, of which Nebraska is a shining example, this problem is complicated by the present pressures to reduce its output of food and to sell less production at lower prices. It appears that there are two trains rushing head on toward each other on the economic track. It is a bad time to be handed a bill for much greater public expenditures to which a directive is attached demanding less income. If both stand unchanged the future Nebraska highway dollar is going to be lots harder to come by than in recent years.

In the cool breeze on a terrace overlooking the ocean, we read and later heard an announcement that former President Harry S. Truman, recovering rapidly from a critical illness, had given the green light to the construction of a memorial library to house his official papers. The site is Independence, Mo. A fund of $750,000 has been contributed for the construction of the memorial, and as a result of Mr. Truman's recent sickness, more contributions were pouring in. Since the former President submitted to surgery, more than 100,000 telegrams and letters voicing prayers for his early recovery had reached Kansas City. In the face of the savage criticism Mr. Truman experienced in the closing months of his administration, that is a rather remarkable outpouring from the people of the country. It suggests that aside from the normal, natural controversies men who bear the burdens of the presidency frequently encounter, there is ultimately a more intelligent verdict. Mr. Truman had to make some tough decisions. It was he who had to assume responsibility for the atom bomb destruction of two Japanese cities. It was he who had to decide events in South Korea. It was he who had to give the signal for development of the hydrogen bomb. His papers are a gold mine of historic significance.

We play hard, we fight in the same spirit, and then near the close of a day it seems that we are given to more rational meditation. Here are two men who for a brief period were leaders of two great political parties, frequently engaged in the violent conflict of ideas and at all times steeped with partisanship. But in that atmosphere there comes a time when old sores are much less painful and a people—a free people—answerable only to their individual consciences—become more generous in their estimates.

We Are Changing

Game and wildlife representatives from the upper Missouri Basin states have completed a conference in Omaha where the subject was the maximum development of recreation in and around the great new bodies of water that are resulting from the Army's multi-purpose dams.

Nebraska was represented by Paul Gilbert director of our game, forestation and parks commission.

Such meetings remind us all that the upper Missouri basin is changing profoundly. The once so-called dry states of Nebraska, the Dakotas, Wyoming and Montana are adding great bodies of water, Nebraska itself, which has so long looked and gone elsewhere for lake recreation is awakening to the fact that the past two decades, through reclamation, has given it more acre feet of water than many of the states to which its recreation minded people are continuing to go. Now the great Missouri dams will produce bodies of water that will dwarf even Nebraska's considerable development.

Ultimately as all of these waters are wisely cultivated, the area will become one of the great recreation centers of America. Added to the massive benefits of flood control, irrigation and electric power, this one of great hunting and fishing development will provide the region with an asset whose value is inestimable.

Business Gets Twice Agriculture's Aid

WASHINGTON—Few people have ever seen the budget of the United States. Some people think it's merely an ethereal set of figures that Congress debates about every year. Actually, however, it's about the size of a New York phone book and just about as dull. The last few pages, however, are extremely significant and ought to be paraded on the Senate floor during the debate on so-called farm subsidies.

For these figures show the amount of subsidies paid to farmers, veterans, businessmen, and others. Highest subsidy, of course, is listed as paid to veterans in the form of bonuses and hospitalization, totaling $4,214,000,000 in 1953.

What may surprise some people, however, is that the subsidy paid to businessmen is about twice as much as that paid to farmers. Farmers got $523,000,000 for soil conservation, price supports, and other government help in 1953; whereas businessmen got $1,216,000,000.

This aid to business, incidentally, was not to small businessmen. It was to upper-bracket business which has yelled so loud about "creeping socialism" yet spent so much money lobbying Congress into voting more money for "galloping favoritism."

They include "helpless little groups" like the United States Steel Corporation, the big utility companies, and some of the big shipping companies.

HUMPHREY GOT TAX WRITE-OFF

Here, for instance, are some of the subsidies big business has been able to obtain—in contrast to farmers' price supports.

The M. A. Hanna Company, one of the biggest iron and steel holding companies in the USA, largely owned and operated by George Humphrey before he became secretary of the treasury, got more than $22,000,000 in tax subsidees just a few weeks before he entered the cabinet. The Hanna Coal and Ore Co., one of his subsidiaries, got a 75 per cent depreciation on an $11,345,000 iron-ore investment in Minnesota and another 70 per cent tax write-off on a $22,000,000 nickel plant in Oregon. The two plants were permitted to depreciate 70 and 75 per cent of their value in five years instead of about 25 years.

These tax write-offs were rushed through during the last few seeks of the Truman administration so Humphrey's company would not be embarrassed by asking for them when he became secretary of the treasury later.

Today the new tax bill gives the same kind of quick depreciation tax write-offs to other types of big business, and Randolph Paul, former general counsel of the treasury and author of "Taxation In The United States," has told congressmen this tax subsidy will cost the public $40,000,000,000 in the next 17 years. In contrast, when a farmer builds a barn he gets no tax write-off, but must spread his depreciation over a period of about 30 years.

UTILITY SUBSIDIES

The big utility companies spend an average of half a million dollars a year on their lobby to influence Congress. At least that's the amount they register officially with Congress. Today this appears to be reaping dividends. One utility combine, Dixon-Yates, has just put across by special order of President Eisenhower a 25-year contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, despite the opposition of a majority of AEC commissioners.

Under this order, Dixon-Yates will invest only $5,300,000 cash, be guaranteed a 9 per cent return by Uncle Sam; will own the plant at the end of 25 years; and will get the benefit of an annual $3,600,000 overcharge made up by the taxpayers for the difference between what they would have to pay TVA instead of Dixon-Yates.

This was why Congressman Holifield of California, a member of the Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, calls this not "creeping socialism" but "galloping federal favoritism."

In contrast the farmer is guaranteed no 90 per cent return on his investment. He has been guaranteed 90 per cent of the price paid during a cross-section average of previous years.

MORE GRAVY

Here are some of the other subsidies to business to which U.S. budget refers when it shows that business annually gets about twice the subsidy given to farmers:

Certain airlines get between $70,000,000 and $95,000,000 annually for carrying the mail. On top of this the taxpayers have paid for radar, lighting beacons and other safety aids for the airlines totaling $21,361,040 in 1951, $13,007,035 in 1952, and $7,000,000 in 1953. Taxpayers also paid $73,931,733 for personnel to operate these safety aids in 1951, plus $80,484,761 in 1952, plus about $105,000,000 in 1953. In addition, another $37,000,000 and $16000,000 went for runways and construction work at airports in 1951-52 and another $19,821,000 in 1953.

The shipping companies also get an average of around $30,000,000 a year in subsidies to operate their vessels; the United States Lines got a construction subsidy of $18,225,000, plus a national defense subsidy of $24,061,000 for building the SS United States; while the Grace lines and Moore-McCormick are being voted subsidies for four new vessels by the current Congress.

These vessels will be turned over to the United States in time of war and this subsidy policy may be a wise one. Also, it is important to keep U.S. airlines operating around the world. But likewise, the American farmer has to feed a good part of the world in case of war and he, like the shipping and airplane companies, can't contract and expand his economy for peace or wars without facing economic chaos.

DORIS FLEESON

Governors Cautious On Ike's Highway Program

BOLTON LANDING, N. Y.—The governors' conference, where Republicans outnumber Democrats 29 to 19, is replying "well, maybe" to President Eisenhower's proposal for a 50-billion-dollar "grand plan" of highway construction. Almost surely they will approve a resolution for a special conference in Washington next fall to talk it over.

This curious political reaction stems from the incredible clumsiness and self-assurance with which the White House handled the proposal.

Though they were dealing with their closest friends, they sprang the huge project as a surprise. Furthermore, governors' conferences have been discussing the same subject for years and criticizing the federal government's domination of the field. In fact, barely eight hours before Vice President Nixon read the President's notes, the governors were burning up Congress for passing a 500-million-dollar highway bill without consulting them.

Apparently nobody read the newspapers which were put aboard the President's plush plane, the Columbine, before it took off from Washington with the vice president for the conference here. Nor, apparently, did anyone bother to case the joint after arrival here in the early afternoon.

This despite the fact that also aboard the Columbine were Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, a former governor who has voted for previous conference resolutions on highways, and Presidential Press Secretary Jim Hagerty, who attended governors' conferences for years as press secretary to Gov. Dewey of New York.

Besides this, here since Sunday night and on the program were two cabinet members — Interior Secretary Douglas McKay, also a former governor, and Health Secretary Oveta Hobby — and Meyer Kestenbaum, chairman of the president's Committee on Federal-State Relationships. And the conference chairman is Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, the President's backer and golfing companion.

Thornton was surprised. He was also upset, viewing the programs, as offered with no preparation, as seemingly extravagant, hazy and embarrassing to the President's friends in the light of conference history.

Thornton appealed immediately to Sherman Adams after Nixon spoke, and they devised a "clarifying statement." It stresses Eisenhower's devotion to federal-state co-operation and says the problem has been given to the governors.

Thornton's valiant attempts to help out were not altogether successful. He pointed out that the states and federal government were already spending about 4 billion dollars yearly on highways, so the President's 5 billion a year was little more. Unfortunately he had forgotten that the President's notes referred to the 5 billion dollars yearly as being "in addition to current expenditures."

The total, instantly leaping to mind, of 90 billion dollars on highways in ten years led to some humor about the New Deal, and the famous Harry Hopkins line was revived—"We shall spend and spend and spend, tax and tax and tax, elect and elect and elect."

The program, its pre-election timing, its job-making appeal—all these are New Deal hallmarks, or so Republicans have always contended.

Nonetheless, New Dealers who act on principle can only rejoice the the President has begun to note 'America's fabulous expansion and is willing to educate people to it. It is disheartening that he merely mentioned the need for schools and offered a federal program only for roads. But the roads are needed for the economy and national defense both.

Another storm is brewing here and it is purely political. Gov. Thornton has appointed the bitter Eisenhower Democrat, Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina, as chairman of the nominating committee of 5, with another Southern Democrat, Gov. William Umstead of North Carolina, and three Republicans.

Democrats hear that Byrnes and Sherman Adams talked and came up with the bright idea of nominating another Eisenhower Democrat, Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, as chairman of the next conference. It is a Democrat's turn.

This calculated insult to former President Truman and Adlai Stevenson will be fought in executive session if it materializes.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Greatest Boxer Since Dempsey

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

A Peruvian boxer who calls himself Lucho De Norden, "Fighter of Norden," is planning to start roadwork soon, after a long layoff.

His training camp is at the Carl Norden, Jr. home at 4827 Franklin. This boxer is owned by the syndicate of Steve and Carl Norden III.

An Army colonel first recognized the qualities of the boxer while stationed in South America. Lucho, who has a mixed ancestry of German, American, Peruvian and Argentinian blood, is a big, muscular but quick boxer.

He is a tempermental, moody, fellow when left alone. When his owners leave him alone at home, this strong boy picks up a pair of shoes and begins to chew on them.

Every year Lucho goes with his two brothers to a Minnesota farm where he enjoys the life away from the city. He likes cows and other livestock. Taking life easy, he often walks through the Minnesota fields and as a favorite sport likes to kill snakes. This boxer is afraid of nothing.

Lucho, one might say, is a born boxer. In fact, both his mother and father were boxers. His grandfather and great grandfather were also boxers, as were his grandmother and great grandmother.

The one sore point that the boxer has is that he has never been in the ring. His road work is done from the back seat of the Norden family car. His training consists of simple obedience to his two young owners.

'LUCHO' and CARL NORDEN III . . . roadwork from the car seat . . .

Yet of all the great boxers, from Dempsey to Marciano, owners Steve and Carl III regard their boy as the best of them all.

WATER AND THE WEST

California Finds New 'Gold'

By J. E. LAWRENCE

PALOS VERDES, Calif. — I picked up the morning paper after a lazy week end. I must confess that after reading a brief dispatch, my thoughts have been pretty much on my home state.

An Associated Press dispatch told of a sizzling 114 degrees at Burwell far up on the North Loup, 113 at Norfolk, and readings ranging from 105 to 110 at other points.

Thirty miles out from the heart of the third largest city in the United States—perched high up on the cliffs overlooking the Pacific—a breeze cool enough in the bright sunshine to make a heavy jacket comfortable—a low fog hugging the distant shoreline—I tried to visualize what all this loveliness would be without water brought from the lower Colorado.

There are enough wacky people doing wacky things to fill a book here in California. Down on the beaches figuratively only a stone's throw away, thousands sun themselves on the sands or splash in the surf, clad in as little as the law allows. The hills are brown and bleak as they are in the dead of Nebraska's winters, except where watered. And where watered, they are as green and lush as the tropics, aflame with the colors of blooming flowers. From the terrace where I have been gazing out to sea, I can count more than 50 varieties of blooming shrubs and plants, ranging from crimson and pink roses to a score of exotic species which thrive in this land of fog and sunshine.

However, there is one thing to be said for California—perhaps grudgingly because of the big buildup so much a part of it. It has a leadership, a political leadership which understands the value of water. A state whose shoreline is fringed by the greatest mass of salt water on the globe never loses a chance to exploit to the fullest every available drop of fresh water to be had. I have started to check the daily and yearly consumption of water withdrawn from the great lake back of Hoover Dam on the Colorado and carried by aqueduct to a famished, never satisfied community when it comes to water—a community which covers one big county, is the home of millions of people and is the center of a growing industrial area providing more and more thousands of jobs.

The last time I was here, four years ago, I talked with a dreamy young Will Rogers who on that particular afternoon was thinking about the waters of the Green River more than 350 miles away. They had had an abnormal rainy season starting earlier in December and lasting longer than usual. A year ago nature was also generous to a region of fantastically light rainfall. But they know what water means out here and after flippancy has worn off, they will talk seriously of the one foremost element vital to what southern California regards as its appointed destiny.

Without irrigation for these rich, productive valleys, I doubt that California would be in the 10 select states in the aggregate of agricultural income or anywhere near shouting distance of it. Water has replaced the exhausted gold strikes which sent thousands across Nebraska during the middle years of the last century.

What Nebraska needs most and in increasing degree in the future will need is a political leadership fully aware of the role of water in relationship to its pocketbook. In 20 years the state has made a great deal of progress. But I fear that progress has failed to capture the imagination of great numbers of its people—has taken place without full appreciation of the citizens—with resulting natural confusion.

In terms of political leadership in Nebraska, the gratifying expansion of well irrigation calls for thought with relation to the underground water table. Nor have we taken the full steps in storage of waste water and flood waters that our own well-being suggests.

One of the most significant developments following the death of Sen. Hugh Butler took place in Washington last week. Sen. Guy Cordon of Oregon became head of the important Senate Committee on Interior Affairs as a result of seniority rule, the post Sen. Butler had filled. If my memory serves me, I do not think Sen. Cordon will be helpful to irrigation development in much of this western country. I have the notion he is a stickler for the so-called "basin account" program which could invoke a rigid, harsh, uncompromising formula tor determination of river basin development.

A committee chairman is a powerful figure in the determination of policy. Cordon is up for re-election in the fall, opposed by a vigorous young fellow who has been knocking around in Oregon politics for 10 years. It could be a battle.

Before this appears, it is to be hoped that the heat has broken. I bumped into a young chap, Tom Jones, a former Nebraskan, doing well out here. He told me he had been home two weeks ago but that the third day the heat sent him scurrying back to the coast. But it is hot in the sun here, and downtown Los Angeles 30 miles away has sweltered.

Here it is peaceful and quiet—the rumble of traffic along the Pacific highway some 200 feet below and a half mile distant barely audible.

It so happened that the holiday following the Fourth was free of fog. We could look to the lights of the downtown area — a sea of lights—then up the coast beyond Santa Monica — each suburban area — Redondo, Manhattan Beach, Venice, Santa Monica and points in between each seeking to outdo the other in a display of fireworks.

It was beautiful, but just now the most welcome sight would be a dispatch telling of an old-fashioned gulley-washer in Nebraska. There is no finer music than raindrops beating against the roof.

The most popular statue along the graat American highway is the Pioneer Mother.

The Pioneer Mother stands beside a span of oxen. She wears a poke bonnet and a couple of children clutch at her skirts. The sculptor has carved a noble look upon her face. Possibly to indicate that the Pioneer Mother is thinking of lofty things.

But if you ask me, what the Pioneer Mother is thinking is:

"I wish to heavens the men folks would hurry up and invent the Laundromat."

Washing has been a problem for the Pioneer Mother.

Well, the only reason I mention this is to set the historians straight.

The first washday in America was held in Provincetown on Cape Cod. It was a Monday in November of 1620. We discount Indian washdays naturally. Since Indian ladies went around dressed in ranch mink. When it got dirty they just threw it away and set new traps.

The Pilgrim ladies held the first washday during a brief stopover of the Mayflower. The history of the Colony does not record whether the water was hard or soft. But Provincetown people say this is what started Monday off as America's washday.

I imagine the Pilgrim fathers all went fishing. That is what Cape Codders do today on washday.

Life was mighty difficult for the first pioneer ladies in New England. There were 18 wives who landed at Plymouth. When the first winter was over only five were still alive.

The pioneer mothers were not only expected to do the laundry, they did the baking and a good deal of gardening. Nobody sat around reading movie magazines. It was considered bad for the female brain to read.

Governor Winthrop wrote in 1645 of the dangers of turning ladies loose with books.

"Mr. Hopkins, the governour of Hartford upon Connecticut, came to Boston and brought his wife with him (a godly young woman, and of special parts), who had fallen into a sad infirmity, the loss of her understanding and reason which had been growing upon her divers years, by occasion of her giving herself wholly to reading and writing, and had written many books.

"Her husband, being very loving and tender of her, was loathe to grieve her, but he saw his error; when it was too late.

"For if she had attended her household affairs, and such things as belong to women, and not gone out of her way and calling to meddle in such things as are proper for men, whose minds are stronger, etc., she had kept her wits, and might have improved them usefully and honorably in the place God set for her.

"He brought her to Boston and left her with her brother, one Mr. Yale, a merchant, to try what means might be had here for her. But no help could be had."

As you can see, there were trying times for the pioneer lady. If the cold, cold winter didn't get them, they might run afoul of reading and writing and lose their wits.

Nothing much changes on Cape Cod. The winters are long and cold and washday is still on Monday. I did notice, however, that there are a number of book stores in Provincetown these days.

Other personal property included three life insurance policies totalling $12,735.53; five shares of Occidental Building and Loan Association, Omaha, $740.47, a checking account for Whitham Farms, $181.92, and others, $210.33.

Record Number Of Cattle Are On Feed In Nebraska

Nebraska, as of the beginning of this month, had a record number of cattle on feed for a July 1, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Wednesday.

The total on grain feed was estimated at 396,000 head, or 4 per cent more than the 381,000 on feed a year ago.

During the past quarter, the number of feed cattle marketed in Nebraska has been more than double the number placed on feed. As a result, the July 1 total is seasonally lower than the 534,000 head on feed April 1. The current estimate, however, "reflects the high level of cattle feeding during the recent season," the reporting agency said.

53 Per Cent Greater

Shipments of stocker and feeder cattle to country points since April 1 were 53 per cent greater than during the same period last year.

Although the number on feed is larger than last year, there were fewer long-fed cattle in Nebraska feedlots July 1 than last year. The current survey shows that 273,000 head representing 69 per cent of the total had been on feed 90 days or more. Last year the comparable figures were 290,000 head or 76 per cent.

At present less than 5 per cent of the cattle are estimated to weigh 1,100 pounds or more, while a year ago there were 42,000 head or 11 per cent in this category.

More than half of cattle now on feed fall in the 600-900 pound weight group.

Marketing intentions are reported about the same as last year except that fewer cattle are scheduled for September marketing, and slightly more are scheduled for marketing after September.

In the three cornbelt states—Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska—the combined number on feed July 1 was 1,732,000 head, or 4 per cent more than a year ago.

Crash Fatal To Adams Supervisor

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—William Hohlen, 63, Hastings, Adams County supervisor the past 16 years and seeking re-election to his fifth straight term, died of injuries received in a traffic accident July 5th.

Hohlen had been in critical condition at a hospital here about a week with multiple pelvic fractures, bruises and internal injuries.

Hohlen was pinned underneath his upright car in a ditch following a collision with a car driven by Lyla Armstrong, 22, Glenvil, Neb., at a county road intersection five miles south of Hastings.

The woman and a passenger, Keith Miller, 13, Glenvil, escaped injury. Hohlen was alone in the car.

Survivors include his widow and three sons.

The death brought Nebraska's highway toll to 150 for the year, compared with 139 at this date a year ago.

Filley Man Burned In Tractor Blaze

FILLEY, Neb. (AP) — Charles Young of Filley suffered serious burns when his tractor caught fire while combining oats. It was the second harvest fire reported in the last two days.

Near Hemingford, fire caused an estimated $12,000 to $20,000 damage at the Milo Elliot farm.

Young suffered first and second degree and possibly third degree burns on his arms and left leg when gasoline spilled from the tractor and caught fire while he was combining oats on the Kenneth Chapman farm near Filley. The tractor was badly damaged and there was some fire around it, but there was no extensive crop loss.

The Hemingford fire destroyed a tractor, and other equipment.

Tri-County Expansion Program Will Aid Irrigators

Kearney, Phelps Cos. To Benefit

Lincoln Star Special

HASTINGS, Neb. — The past two weeks saw the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District (Tri-County) taking several steps in its expansion program to bring one and a half acre feet of water to irrigators instead of the one foot furnished under previous contracts.

This action took place particularly in the area irrigated by the Central District's Phelps County Canal area in Phelps and Kearney counties where 85 per cent of the 76,000 acres irrigated by this canal have been signed up for the additional half foot of water.

This activity, part of a $500,000 improvement and enlargement program inaugurated this spring, included the purchase of a flume, culverts, lumber, equipment and the letting contracts for five more deep wells to pump into certain laterals.

New Wells

The five new wells will be similar to five recently completed and now in use pumping 35 acre feet of water each 24 hours into the lower portion of lateral E-65 four miles north of Loomis. The contract was let to the low bidder, The Western Land Roller Company of Hastings for $38,145.00.

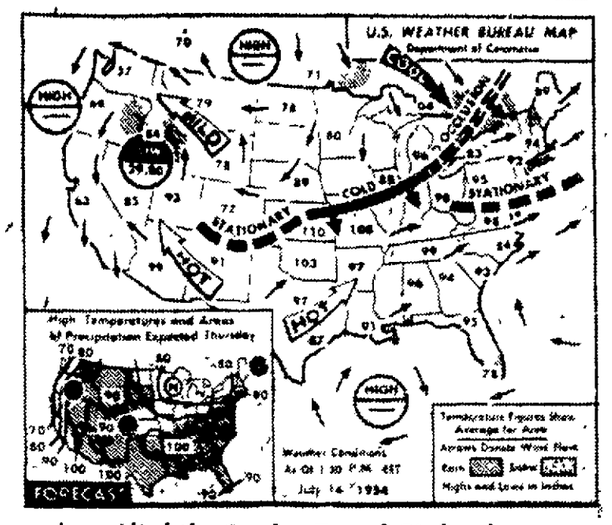
The contract calls for the wells to be approximately 200 feet deep, with a 10 inch casing packed in gravel in a 36 inch hole, equipped with deep well turbine pumps of 1,400 to 1,700 gallons per minute capacity, and powered by Continental natural gas motors.

George E. Johnson, the district's chief engineer, said that the 70 acre feet which these 10 wells will provide each day will deliver to the and the same amount of water as 250 acre feet of storage water in Lake McConaughy, and will make more water available to users both above as well as below the location of the wells.

Axtell Area Added

Another contract let was for 1,008 feet of semi-circle shaped galvanized steel flume, over eight feet wide at the top and four and a half feet deep which will replace the now existing small flume on Lateral A38.6, about three fourths mile north of Axtell and will enable the delivery of more water for the area north of the Burlington tracks from Axtell to near Minden.

Official estimates of the total cost of the enlargement and improvement program are $500,000 comprised of $250,000 for enlargement of culverts and flume and other improvement on the Phelps County Canal; $100.000 for wells and pumps on Lateral E-65, and $150,000 for canal treatment to control seepage losses on Lateral E-65.



Slightly Cooler Trend Sighted

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms are due Thursday in portions of the middle Atlantic states, the Ohio and Tennessee valleys, the southern Mississippi valley, the central plains states and in the Gulf coast region. Farther west, widely scattered thunderstorms are forecast in the Great Basin area and the Rocky Mountain states. Little temperature change is expected in the south A slightly cooler trend will take place in the northern tier of states from Maine to Minnesota and in the central plains. (AP Wirephoto Map Wednesday Night.)

Heaton, one of the nation's largest growers of gladioli, estimated that Bellevue's water shortage is costing him at least a thousand dollars each day that he cannot completely irrigate the 10 million bulbs he normally waters from the town's municipal system.

Some Bulbs Safe

An additional 10 million bulbs, irrigated by water pumped from the Missouri and Platte Rivers and Papio Creek, apparently are not in danger.

The conservation measures ordered at Bellevue have forced Heaton to cut his use of Bellevue water from 100 thousand gallons a day to 10 thousand

Heaton said Bellevue's water shortage stems from its rapid growth. The water system is planned to serve 1,500 persons, he said, but Bellevue now has a population of more than 5,000.

Senator Bowring Introduces Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked to put an end to disputes between state and federal agencies over livestock brand inspections.

Sen. Eva Bowring (R-Neb) introduced a bill which would give state agencies sole brand inspection power over livestock shipped and sold in the same state.

The bill, co-sponsored by several senators from western states, also would clarify existing laws covering collection of inspection fees of livestock shipped across state lines and other brand problems.

It was recommended recently by the National Livestock Brand Conference comprised of representatives of 18 states.

Academy Refused Tax-Free Request

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Officials at the Platte Valley Academy, a non-accredited school located a mile east of Shelton, Neb., found their efforts to extend their academy's tax-free land resulted only in trouble!

The Hall County Board of Supervisors not only refused the academy's application for a tax-free listing on its latest purchase of 80 acres. The board also ruled that all but 17 of the academy's present 400 acres of nontaxable land should be liable for taxes.

And the board was reported considering placing the school's farm machinery on the personal property tax list.

The 17 acres which remain nontaxable was the original property of the academy, operated by the Nebraska Conference of Seventh Day Adventists.

The land, farmed by agricultural students, produced more crops than the school needed so the products were sold. The profits were used to purchase more land, all of which was tax-free.

Tri-County Expansion Program Will Aid Irrigators

Kearney, Phelps Cos. To Benefit

Lincoln Star Special

HASTINGS, Neb. — The past two weeks saw the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District (Tri-County) taking several steps in its expansion program to bring one and a half acre feet of water to irrigators instead of the one foot furnished under previous contracts.

This action took place particularly in the area irrigated by the Central District's Phelps County Canal area in Phelps and Kearney counties where 85 per cent of the 76,000 acres irrigated by this canal have been signed up for the additional half foot of water.

This activity, part of a $500,000 improvement and enlargement program inaugurated this spring, included the purchase of a flume, culverts, lumber, equipment and the letting contracts for five more deep wells to pump into certain laterals.

New Wells

The five new wells will be similar to five recently completed and now in use pumping 35 acre feet of water each 24 hours into the lower portion of lateral E-65 four miles north of Loomis. The contract was let to the low bidder, The Western Land Roller Company of Hastings for $38,145.00.

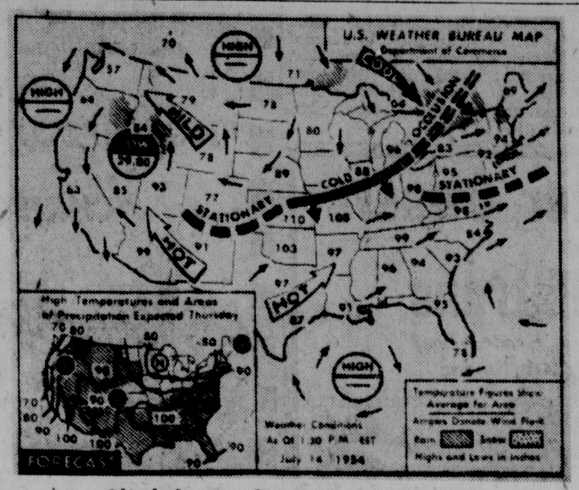
The contract calls for the wells to be approximately 200 feet deep, with a 10 inch casing packed in gravel in a 36 inch hole, equipped with deep well turbine pumps of 1,400 to 1,700 gallons per minute capacity, and powered by Continental natural gas motors.

George E. Johnson, the district's chief engineer, said that the 70 acre feet which these 10 wells will provide each day will deliver to the and the same amount of water as 250 acre feet of storage water in Lake McConaughy, and will make more water available to users both above as well as below the location of the wells.

Axtell Area Added

Another contract let was for 1,008 feet of semi-circle shaped galvanized steel flume, over eight feet wide at the top and four and a half feet deep which will replace the now existing small flume on Lateral A38.6, about three fourths mile north of Axtell and will enable the delivery of more water for the area north of the Burlington tracks from Axtell to near Minden.

Official estimates of the total cost of the enlargement and improvement program are $500,000 comprised of $250,000 for enlargement of culverts and flume and other improvement on the Phelps County Canal; $100,000 for wells and pumps on Lateral E-65, and $150,000 for canal treatment to control seepage losses on Lateral E-65.



Slightly Cooler Trend Sighted

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms are due Thursday in portions of the middle Atlantic states, the Ohio and Tennessee valleys, the southern Mississippi valley, the central plains states and in the Gulf coast region. Farther west, widely scattered thunderstorms are forecast in the Great Basin area and the Rocky Mountain states. Little temperature change is expected in the south. A slightly cooler trend will take place in the northern tier of states from Maine to Minnesota and in the central plains. (AP Wirephoto Map Wednesday Night.)

Lack Of Water Costly, Flower Grower Reveals

BELLEVUE, Neb. (AP) — Hot weather is costing W. G. Heaton of Bellevue a thousand dollars a day.

Drop In Temps Eases Farm Stock Loss

Hogs, Turkeys, Chickens Die

Cooler temperatures Wednesday throughout Nebraska eased the loss of farm animals, attributed to this week's intense heat wave.

Rendering plants have been swamped processing hogs, turkeys and a smaller number of chickens since the mercury soared to record marks earlier in the week.

A total of about 160,000 pounds —or 550 head—of hogs have been processed by two local firms since the first of the week.

A loss of 10,000 turkeys within a radius of 75 miles of Lincoln was estimated by Al Williams of Cheney from his talks with other turkey farmers.

There also has been "quite a chicken loss," Williams said, but it is considerably less than the turkey loss.

Heaviest losses of birds were early in the week, Roscoe Hill of the Hill Hatchery said, and the situation has eased up now.

The only preventive for heat losses—besides a change in the weather—seems to be lots of shade and lots of water.

Younger animals can stand the heat much better than older, fatter ones, Joseph H. Claybaugh of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture said.

At Page, in northeast Nebraska, turkey loss was placed at 500 birds. Twenty-three fat hogs and many chickens also died, due to the blistering 112 degree temperature there.

Melvin Carson, Laverne Van Conat, Harold Heiss, Horner Rutherford, Jake Finch, Leland Finley, Marvin Stauffer and Bernard Kornock all reported hog losses at Page. Vernie Finley lost 500 turkeys.

2 Teen-Agers Bring Suit Against County

ST. PAUL, Neb. (AP) — Two teen-age boys brought suit in District Court here Wednesday against Howard County, asking for a total of $16,400.

The boys, Patrick Rock, 18, and Richard Jarecke, 19, asked for the amount to cover damages and injuries they said they received in a car accident at a bridge washout on a county road June 18.

ALBION, Neb.—Flames caused by a bolt of lightning destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cerney, located north of Albion.

12 Barrels Of Oil Per Hour Pumped From Dawson Well

The well will be pumped at a rate of about 150 barrels a day, Bill Weaver of the Nemaha Company said. The well indicated a potential of 400 barrels or more in initial swabbing operations.

Drop In Temps Eases Farm Stock Loss

Hogs, Turkeys, Chickens Die

Cooler temperatures Wednesday throughout Nebraska eased the loss of farm animals, attributed to this week's intense heat wave.

Rendering plants have been swamped processing hogs, turkeys and a smaller number of chickens since the mercury soared to record marks earlier in the week.

A total of about 160,000 pounds —or 550 head—of hogs have been processed by two local firms since the first of the week.

A loss of 10,000 turkeys within a radius of 75 miles of Lincoln was estimated by Al Williams of Cheney from his talks with other turkey farmers.

There also has been "quite a chicken loss," Williams said, but it is considerably less than the turkey loss.

Heaviest losses of birds were early in the week, Roscoe Hill of the Hill Hatchery said, and the situation has eased up now.

The only preventive for heat losses—besides a change in the weather—seems to be lots of shade and lots of water.

Younger animals can stand the heat much better than older, fatter ones, Joseph H. Claybaugh of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture said.

At Page, in northeast Nebraska, turkey loss was placed at 500 birds. Twenty-three fat hogs and many chickens also died, due to the blistering 112 degree temperature there.

Melvin Carson, Laverne Van Conat, Harold Heiss, Homer Rutherford, Jake Finch, Leland Finley, Marvin Stauffer and Bernard Kornock all reported hog losses at Page. Vernie Finley lost 500 turkeys.

2 Teen-Agers Bring Suit Against County

ST. PAUL, Neb. (AP) — Two teen-age boys brought suit in District Court here Wednesday against Howard County, asking for a total of $16,400.

The boys, Patrick Rock, 18, and Richard Jarecke, 19, asked for the amount to cover damages and injuries they said they received in a car accident at a bridge washout on a county road June 18.

ALBION, Neb.—Flames caused by a bolt of lightning destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cerney, located north of Albion.

Committee Changes House Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House Conference Committee agreed Wednesday on a limited tax cut for widows and widowers. But the committee ruled out a much bigger reduction approved by the House for all single heads of households.

This was the first major decision as five Senate seniors and five senior House members set out to settle hundreds of differences between the two houses over President Eisenhower's big tax revision program.

The tax writers postponed action for the time being on the hottest issues still at stake—how much to cut taxes on income received as stockholders' dividends.

Meeting late in the day, the conferees also agreed to accept the more liberal Senate version of a plan to exempt from taxes the first $1,200 of annual income of retired persons—a saving of up to $240 per person.

The House bill would have applied only to persons 65 or over. The Senate bill would include persons under 65 if they retired under a public retirment system—such as school teachers, firemen, policemen, or other government employes.

The committee decided that for two years after the death of a wife or husband, the widow or widower would be able to continue to split income for tax purposes just as married couples do. That often puts the taxpayer in a lower bracket.

Experts figured the saving would amount to about six or seven million dollars a year.

The House bill would have given all single heads of families—widowed or divorced persons or single persons supporting dependents—the full permanent benefits allowed from income splitting.

The Senate had eliminated this provision entirely from the tax revision program, on grounds that most of the benefits would go to wealthy persons.

Under the conference agreement, except for new widows or widowers, single heads of households would continue in the same tax status as under present law. They now get one-half the benefits of income splitting.

Workers Leave At Doniphan Project

DONIPHAN, Neb. (AP) — Construction workers on a Great Lakes Pipeline Co., project just south of Doniphan, left the job Wednesday.

Details of the controversy were not immediately learned, but it was reported that only the construction workers were involved. Great Lakes employees remained on the job.

The two firms involved are the Olson Construction Co., Lincoln and Holden Construction Co., Pawhuska, Okla., which is a subcontractor on the job.

At Olson headquarters in Lincoln first word of the walkout arrived shortly afternoon and Kenneth Dodge, chief engineer, said he was seeking further details from the superintendent on the job.

Olson spokesmen said they do not know whether the workers involved are their employees or those of the Holden firm.

Olson's is erecting a terminal building and has subcontracted some pipe laying to Holden.

Man Jailed In Rape Of Tiny Baby

SEMINOLE, Tex. (AP) — Officers accused a husky house guest Wednesday to stealing a five-month-old baby and raping her before her father caught up and took her back.

The 6-foot- 2-inch, 195-pound man was arrested near his car, jailed here and charged with rape.

The child is Jackie Jo Davis, daughter of a former GI and his Japanese wife. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis. They live in a two-room cabin just across the Texas state line from Hobbs, N.M., where Davis is a bartender in the Club Morrice.

Officers said Bill Hughes, 34, of Seminole took Jackie Jo while both parents were at the bar.

Dist. Atty. Karl Cayton said Hughes hadn't "exactly denied raping the little girl—his pretense is that he doesn't know what we're talking about."

A Seminole physician said Jackie Jo, a tiny brunette, was in good condition.

Bill Curry, county attorney of Gaines County, Tex., said Hughes was a guest in the Davis' home Tuesday night and baked a chicken for dinner.

Deputy Sheriff J. C. Fort of Lea County, N.M., said the father began a search and found Hughes and his daughter in the car about 4 a.m. Davis seized the little girl from Hughes, rushed her here and notified Seminole officers.

Fort said he tracked Hughes from the spot where he had left the car and arrested him about two miles away.

Hughes is an employe of the Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. in Seminole. Fort said Hughes told him he lives "anywhere" but has a divorced wife and three children, 12-year-old twin daughters, and a 5-year-old son, in Baytown, Tex. The deputy said Hughes told him he was released from the Texas State Penitentiary last March.

Red-Faced Sheriff Takes An Extra-Long Ride For Prisoner

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — A Tennessee sheriff and his deputy left Indianapolis a little red-faced Wednesday with a prisoner they travelled 1,226 miles out of their way to pick up.

Sheriff L. H. Nelms and A. F. Callahan left Bolivar, Tenn., for Indianapolis, but mistakenly bought tickets for Minneapolis, which is 613 miles northwest of the Indiana capital.

Upon their return, they admitted somewhat shamefacedly that they had confused the two cities and in fact had passed through Indianapolis on their way to Minneapolis to pick up William Silas Case, wanted in Hardeman county for forgery.

Committee Changes House Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House Conference Committee agreed Wednesday on a limited tax cut for widows and widowers. But the committee ruled out a much bigger reduction approved by the House for all single heads of households.

This was the first major decision as five Senate seniors and five senior House members set out to settle hundreds of differences between the two houses over President Eisenhower's big tax revision program.

The tax writers postponed action for the time being on the hottest issues still at stake—how much to cut taxes on income received as stockholders' dividends.

Meeting late in the day, the conferees also agreed to accept the more liberal Senate version of a plan to exempt from taxes the first $1,200 of annual income of retired persons—a saving of up to $240 per person.

The House bill would have applied only to persons 65 or over. The Senate bill would include persons under 65 if they retired under a public retirment system—such as school teachers, firemen, policemen, or other government employes.

The committee decided that for two years after the death of a wife or husband, the widow or widower would be able to continue to split income for tax purposes just as married couples do. That often puts the taxpayer in a lower bracket.

Experts figured the saving would amount to about six or seven million dollars a year.

The House bill would have given all single heads of families—widowed or divorced persons or single persons supporting dependents—the full permanent benefits allowed from income splitting.

The Senate had eliminated this provision entirely from the tax revision program, on grounds that most of the benefits would go to wealthy persons.

Under the conference agreement, except for new widows or widowers, single heads of households would continue in the same tax status as under present law. They now get one-half the benefits of income splitting.

Van Fleet Back Home

LONG BEACH, Calif. (INS) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet said that his tour of the Far East as President Eisenhower's special envoy was a "success," but declared that details of his mission must remain secret until he reports to Washington Thursday. The former Eighth Army commander's 10-week tour took him to key points in the Orient, including Formosa, Korea and the Philippines.

Workers Leave At Doniphan Project

DONIPHAN, Neb. (AP) — Construction workers on a Great Lakes Pipeline Co., project just south of Doniphan, left the job Wednesday.

Details of the controversy were not immediately learned, but it was reported that only the construction workers were involved, Great Lakes employees remained on the job.

The two firms involved are the Olson Construction Co., Lincoln and Holden Construction Co., Pawhuska, Okla., which is a subcontractor on the job.

At Olson headquarters in Lincoln first word of the walkout arrived shortly afternoon and Kenneth Dodge, chief engineer, said he was seeking further details from the superintendent on the job

Olson spokesmen said they do not know whether the workers involved are their employees or those of the Holden firm.

Olson's is erecting a terminal building and has subcontracted some pipe laying to Holden.

Tank Upset Fatal

TOKYO (INS)—Marine officers said that one Leatherneck was killed and three injured when a tank of the famous Third Marine Division in central Japan overturned and caught fire.

Simon D. Carlson Rites In Lincoln

Funeral services and burial will be held in Lincoln for Simon D. Carlson who died at a Veterans Hospital in Wadsworth, Kan.

A native of Sweden, Mr. Carlson came to Lincoln in 1913. He worked for a tailoring firm in Lincoln until 1937 when he moved to Boonville, Mo. He was a member of Capital Lodge 11, IOOF in Lincoln and the Columbia Rebekah Lodge here.

Survivors include his wife, Adah; two brothers and one sister in Sweden, and a niece in California.

Onions Used As Bombs

An onion bombardment of the Southwest Community Center at 1145 High was reported to police who were told the bombing resulted in a broken window. Four juveniles were blamed.

Man Jailed In Rape Of Tiny Baby

SEMINOLE, Tex. (AP) — Officers accused a husky house guest Wednesday to stealing a five-month-old baby and raping her before her father caught up and took her back.

The 6-foot- 2-inch, 195-pound man was arrested near his car, jailed here and charged with rape.

The child is Jackie Jo Davis, daughter of a former GI and his Japanese wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis. They live in a two-room cabin just across the Texas state line from Hobbs, N.M., where Davis is a bartender in the Club Morrice.

Officers said Bill Hughes, 34, of Seminole took Jackie Jo while both parents were at the bar.

Dist. Atty. Karl Cayton said Hughes hadn't "exactly denied raping the little girl—his pretense is that he doesn't know what we're talking about."

A Seminole physician said Jackie Jo, a tiny brunette, was in good condition.

Bill Curry, county attorney of Gaines County, Tex., said Hughes was a guest in the Davis' home Tuesday night and baked a chicken for dinner.

Deputy Sheriff J. C. Fort of Lea County, N.M., said the father began a search and found Hughes and his daughter in the car about 4 a.m. Davis seized the little girl from Hughes, rushed her here and notified Seminole officers.

Fort said he tracked Hughes from the spot where he had left the car and arrested him about two miles away.

Hughes is an employe of the Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. in Seminole. Fort said Hughes told him he lives "anywhere" but has a divorced wife and three children, 12-year-old twin daughters, and a 5-year-old son, in Baytown, Tex. The deputy said Hughes told him he was released from the Texas State Penitentiary last March.

Red-Faced Sheriff Takes An Extra-Long Ride For Prisoner

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — A Tennessee sheriff and his deputy left Indianapolis a little red-faced Wednesday with a prisoner they travelled 1,226 miles out of their way to pick up.

Sheriff L. H. Nelms and A. F. Callahan left Bolivar, Tenn., for Indianapolis, but mistakenly bought tickets for Minneapolis, which is 613 miles northwest of the Indiana capital.

Upon their return, they admitted somewhat shamefacedly that they had confused the two cities and in fact had passed through Indianapolis on their way to Minneapolis to pick up William Silas Case, wanted in Hardeman county for forgery.

Promises Broken By GOP---Green

OMAHA (AP) — Nebraska Republican Congressmen are giving their constituents "carbon copy" representation, James F. Green said here. Green is the Democratic candidate for senator to succeed the late Hugh Butler.

Green said the "carbon copy" representation comes through "accepting Ezra Taft Benson's program and by faithfully echoing his pontifications about farm prices."

In a talk before the Douglas County Democratic Club, Green said Republican public relations men in the last campaign "were willing to promise the people anything they thought the public wanted to hear."

'Con Game'

He added: "For instance, they promised Mr. Eisenhower would continue the policy of fixed price supports for agricultural products at 90 per cent of parity. Apparently they are continuing to use the old 'letter drop' type of confidence game, because when the House of Representatives recently passed Benson's flexible price support plan it was hailed by the public relations crew as a victory for the administration."

"It is strange to hear boasting of a victory based upon a promise made and broken," Green said.

"It is difficult to understand how the administration which expresses great faith in the appreciation for American farmers can shackle them with legislation expressly designed to reduce farm income. It is even more difficult to understand how elected representatives from Nebraska can lend their support to a measure designed to hurt them," Green said.

Program Outlined By David Martin

OMAHA (AP)—Former State Republican Chairman David Martin of Kearney placed his program befor the Omaha Exchange Club members in a speech in behalf of his candidacy for the long-term GOP senate nomination.

Martin made these points.

Agriculture: Favors flexible supports to reduce present surpluses. Favors research to find more uses for farm products.

Indo-China: Opposes sending American troops to that "or any other faroff" country.

Hemisphere defense: "I think we should take direct action against any Communist troubles in the Western Hemisphere."

Secret agreements: "The Bricker amendment would take care of this and I'm in favor of it." The amendment would require all presidential agreements be ratified by the Senate.

Balanced budget: The single stroke, he said, that would balance the budget is to cut off all foreign aid. He favors doing this.

United Nations: Red China should not be admitted.

Nebraska History To Be Presented In Fair Pageant

The history of Nebraska dramatically presented in the form of a Territorial Centennial pageant will be one of the highlights of the 1954 State Fair, it was announced by Edwin Schultz, secretary of the fair board.

First showing of the pageant will be on Saturday night, Sept. 4, at a special "pre-opening." It will be repeated in front of the grandstand on Sunday night, Sept 5.

Fairground gates will swing open for the pre-opening at 6 p.m. on Saturday. In addition to the pageant, the midway will be in operation. Regular gate and grandstand admission will be charged.

The pageant will be presented by more than 600 actors from Nebraska City, all of them garbed in the period to be depicted. Played in front of a 350-foot stage, the narrative type presentation will feature 25 to 35 scenes of authentic Nebraska history.

The tentative outline of the pageant calls for an opening scene featuring the arrival of Lewis and Clark in what was to become Nebraska territory. Other events to be depicted will include the establishment of the first Ft. Kearny, the treaty with the Pawnee Indians, the first territorial fair, the coming of the railroad, and the sale of slaves.

It's A Bright Morning Newswise

SOCIALLY SPEAKING, it's a big, bright beautiful morning and in spite of the fact that the news involves more of the same—guests and vacationers—we think it is interesting because there are always new names and places to tell you about.

HAVE SOME news this morning about the Olsons, Mr. and Mrs. Carl W., and their son, Sam, who left Monday for Mobile, Ala., to attend the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Olson's nephew, Robert Reynolds, who will be married Saturday, July 17, to Miss Sarah Lester of Mobile.

The Olson's daughter, Carolyn, is already in Mobile visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Anderson. Miss Olson accompanied the Andersons home after the wedding of Mrs. Anderson's niece, Miss Shirley Sidles, and Thomas S. Bowman, which was solemnized on June 19 in Lincoln.

SPEAKING of the Bowmans, heard that they spent a brief time in Lincoln last week visiting Mrs. Bowman's parents, before returning to their home in Denver.

THINK WE mentioned earlier this week the reception for Mrs. Eva Bowring, United States Senator from Nebraska, which will be held at the Governor's Mansion this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock—but we didn't tell you that Mrs. Donald F. Kline, Gov. Crosby's sister, will be the hostess in the absence of Mrs. Crosby who, after the Governors' Conference which was held recently at Bolton Landing, Lake George, N. Y., traveled on to Alton Bay, N. H., to visit her sister, Mrs. George L. Shaw.

Assisting Mrs. Kline will be Mrs. Robert C. Guenzel, Mrs. Chauncey Barney, Mrs. James N. Ackerman, Mrs. Don Dixon, Mrs. James Diesing and Mrs. Thomas R. Pansing.

Those pouring at the tea tables and assisting in the dining room include Mrs. Robert Simmons, Mrs. Charles Warner, Mrs. Ed Hoyt, Mrs. Gladys Forsythe, Mrs. Fritz Craig, Miss Jeane Shankland, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. Wallalee Spelts, Mrs. C. S. Beck and Miss Norma Carpenter.

Also assisting will be Miss Alice Abel, Mrs. Tal Coonrad, Mrs. Max Meyer, Mrs. Alice Brown Heelan, Mrs. Charles Sherman, Mrs. Richard Larson, Mrs. Joseph Wishart, Mrs. William Stenten, Mrs. Harry Stewart, Mrs. Chauncey Sheldon, Mrs. Merrill Reller, Mrs. Frank Marsh, Mrs. Frank Heintze, Miss Mary Freeman, Mrs. Merle Karnopp, Mrs. Jack Devoe, Mrs. Richard Kosman, Mrs. Don Purvis and Miss Phyllis Samuelson.

Miss Betty Lu Naden, Miss Donna Lemon, Miss Ardis Hunt, Miss Helen Hospidsky, Mrs. Thelma Kingston, Mrs. Curtis D. Kimball, Mrs. Elmer Scheele, Mrs. Gene Tallman, Mrs. Jack Stewart, Mrs. Don Pegler and Mrs. James Evinger will also be assisting.

AND NOW we have some news of vacationers and guests, among whom are Mr. and Mrs. William Crabill who will stop in Lincoln this week-end for a visit with Mr. Crabill's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Crabill. The William Crabills are en route to their home in Marks, Miss., from the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs, Colo., where they have had a holiday. They will be honored at the Country Club Saturday evening at a no-host dinner.

ARRIVING home Monday evening from a three weeks trip through New England, Canada and New York, were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walt and their children, Mary and Janice. Mr. Walt attended the Lions Convention in New York City, and while in the East the Walts visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crabill, formerly of Lincoln who now live in Old Greenwich, Conn., and Mrs. Walt's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tibbets, of Croton Falls, N. Y., also one-time Nebraska residents.

ALSO ON the homecomers list are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whitworth and their daughter, Miss Marian Whitworth who returned early last week from Detroit where they attended the wedding of Miss Carolyn Finnell and Robert Heider on Saturday, July 3. En route home, the Whitworths stopped in Toronto, Canada.

UNDERSTAND that Dr. and Mrs. John Thompson and their two sons, Johnny and Jimmy of Auburn, were in town this week as the guests of Dr. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Thompson. The John Thompsons, of course, were Lincoln residents until about a year ago.

Has Morning Ceremony

Miss Marilyn Jean McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McClure of St. Paul, became the bride of Donald Francis Rocke, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Rocke of Hallam, at 9:30 o'clock on Saturday morning, July 10 at St. Mary's Cathedral in Lincoln. Father Aloysius Piorkowski of St. James Church in Cortland, read the lines of the double ring ceremony.

As the guests were seated, Miss Catherine Gillespie played a prelude of organ music and also accompanied Ronald Hazard of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., who sang.

Mrs. Ronald Hazard of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a pastel blue frock with white accessories. A corsage of pale pink carnations completed her costume.

The bride chose for her wedding a bluish pink frock with matching accessories and carried a white prayer book marked with pink carnations and white daisies.

Dean Rocke of Victorville, Calif., was his brother's best man and Roger McClure of St. Paul, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

A breakfast was held at the Cornhusker Hotel immediately following the ceremony, after which the couple left for a wedding journey to Colorado. They will be at home in Lincoln after July 18.

Mrs. Rocke attended the University of Nebraska and the bridegroom was graduated from the University of Nebraska and is now attending the University of Nebraska College of Law where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

Ceremony In Albion

MR. AND MRS. VELDA NORWIN STAHL

Cathedral candles burning in branched candelabra and basket arrangements of garden flowers formed the background for the marriage of Miss Jo Ann Carroll Schmadeke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmadeke of Albion, and Veida Norwin Stahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Stahl of Broken Bow, which was solemnized Sunday, July 4 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the Lutheran Church in Albion. The Rev. Dale Spicker read the lines of the ceremony.

Mrs. David Eksirom, organist, played a prelude of organ music and also accompanied Miss Kay Jean Schmadeke, who sang.

Yellow tulle over taffeta formed the frock worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Jim Amsberry of Cheyenne, Wyo. The fitted bodice narrowed at the waist and the full skirt was in the waltz length. She carried a bouquet of green carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Norma Jean Nelson of Albion wore a green frock styled identically to that of the honor attendant and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. Miss Debbie Jo Adams was the flower girl and was frocked in pink tulle over taffeta, and the ringbearer was Marlin Stahl.

White Chantilly lace formed the long-sleeved bodice of the bride's gown. The moulded basque featured a Peter Pan collar and a yoke of illusion and the full skirt of net over satin ended in a train. A satin tiara dotted with seed pearls held the bride's veil of illusion and she carried a white Bible marked with pink and white carnations.

Jim Amsberry of Cheyenne, Wyo., was the best man and the groomsman was Charles Thompson of Ansley. Gerald Stahl of Adams, brother of the bridegroom and Oliver Loken of Albion seated the guests.

The couple left for a trip to Yankton and Pickstown, S.D., following a reception which was held in the church parlors. For traveling Mrs. Stahl chose a frock of gray nylon and white accessories. They will reside in Lincoln.

Mr. Stahl attended the University of Nebraska.

We Hear That

Ted Holtgrewe, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holtgrewe, who was recently commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Marine Air Corps, has been in Lincoln for several weeks visiting his parents. Lt. Holtgrewe has been stationed at Kingsville, Tex., and on Saturday will leave for his new post, Altora Field, near Santa Ana, Calif. Lt. Holtgrewe attended the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

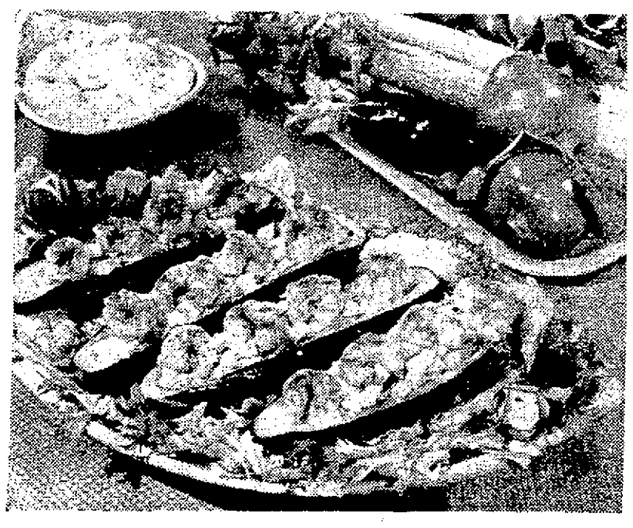
Mrs. Mike Paulick and children left Lincoln Friday for Yakima, Wash., to join her husband who is there serving as technical advisor for the motion picture, "To Hell and Back."

THE WAY MY FAMILY LIKES I

WOMEN'S EXCHANGE



Cucumbers Star Today

Like so many well-mated combinations, fish and cucumbers seem to bring out the best in each other. Any salad of cold sea food teamed with this refreshing vegetable is a success, and here is a slightly different treatment of both, using the now plentiful cuke and either canned or fresh-frozen shrimp.

Cucumber Boats

4 cucumbers, 6 to 7 in. long
½ cup diced cucumber centers
¾ lb. ready-to-eat shrimp
1 cup celery, diced
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
Head lettuce or other salad greens

Wash cucumbers and cut a ½-inch lengthwise strip from each. Scoop out centers with a spoon. Dice ½ cup of the centers and the shrimp (save 16 whole shrimp for garnishing). Mix with celery, lemon juice, mayonnaise, salt and black pepper. Spoon the mixture into the cucumber boats. Place on a bed of salad greens. Garnish each with four whole shrimp.

Yield: four servings.

Relaxing Effect

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

In these days when a hot bath is simply a matter of turning a faucet, it's hard to realize that the bath during many periods in history was a special occasion.

During the Dark Ages people also turned dark with grime! In Medieval times, castles had big oval wooden tubs, and a bucket-brigade to fill them. The Crusaders who went to the East returned with the idea of the Oriental vapor bath—but the lack of a sufficient water supply kept it a luxury.

Praise be to such modern servants as the automatic gas water heater that assures hot water in the right amount and at the right temperature! For there's nothing so relaxing, so reviving to the spirits as the good old hot bath.

Anti-Fatigue Treatment

You never know when nervous fatigue is going to make you feel like lead, when unaccustomed exercise will make your muscles stiff and sore. The quickest, surest antidote in such emergencies is a bath. Not a quickie, but a soak that's remedial in its very lack of time limit.

Have the bath water as hot as you can stand, and drink a glass of cold water before jumping into the tub. This induces perspiration, thus rids the system of poisonous wastes. Soak for 10 or 15 minutes before soaping yourself, then soap slowly. You'll feel your muscles unkinking and your mind letting go of its tight little worries.

To prolong the luxury of the tub treatment, replenish the hot water by letting the faucet run once or twice. After the tubbing, rub dry with a soft, warm towel and use your dusting powder or cologne in lavish quanties.

Boon To Sleep

When you feel too keyed up to fall asleep, instead of plumping the pillow into knots with your tossing and turning, head for the tub! A tepid bath is just the thing to relax your body and bring restful sleep. Let yourself go limp as you stretch out in a tubful of scented suds. Do everything slowly: use soap and washcloth in slow motion, rub lightly instead of briskly. Your eyes will be half closed by the time you slip into bed.

It's no wonder the ancients believed hot water to have miraculous power—it does! For a leisurely tub bath is an essential beauty aid. The water softens the skin, opens the pores, banishes the lines of fatigue.

Why is it that some families have ALL the talent and the rest of us struggle along on their ideas or what we can pick up from others equally clever? This morning, we are visiting the Ben James household where we find the kiddies, Jimmy, Stacy and Bill helping mother whip up her notorious Celery Seed Dressing, which is a hit both summer and winter on all fruit salads. The unfair part is that Mrs. James finds time for such creative cookery in addition to interior decorating, art, gardening, entertaining, and even canning or bottling various goodies to give to her fortunate friends around the holiday season.

CELERY SEED DRESSING

Mix together in a deep bowl 1 t. dry mustard, paprika, salt and celery seed. Add 1 t. onion juice. Measure separately ½ c. salad oil, 4 T. vinegar, and ½ c. sugar. Start adding to dry mixture VERY slowly, a little at a time in this order: oil, vinegar, sugar, until very thick, ending with oil. (An electric mixer is best for this, since you must beat constantly.) Keeps indefinitely in the refrigerator.

It's A Bright Morning Newswise

SOCIALLY SPEAKING, it's a big, bright beautiful morning and in spite of the fact that the news involves more of the same—guests and vacationers—we think it is interesting because there are always new names and places to tell you about.

HAVE SOME news this morning about the Olsons, Mr. and Mrs. Carl W., and their son, Sam, who left Monday for Mobile, Ala., to attend the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Olson's nephew, Robert Reynolds, who will be married Saturday, July 17, to Miss Sarah Lester of Mobile.

The Olson's daughter, Carolyn, is already in Mobile visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Anderson. Miss Olson accompanied the Andersons home after the wedding of Mrs. Anderson's niece, Miss Shirley Sidles, and Thomas S. Bowman, which was solemnized on June 19 in Lincoln.

SPEAKING of the Bowmans, heard that they spent a brief time in Lincoln last week visiting Mrs. Bowman's parents, before returning to their home in Denver.

THINK WE mentioned earlier this week the reception for Mrs. Eva Bowring, United States Senator from Nebraska, which will be held at the Governor's Mansion this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock—but we didn't tell you that Mrs. Donald F. Kline, Gov. Crosby's sister, will be the hostess in the absence of Mrs. Crosby who, after the Governors' Conference which was held recently at Bolton Landing, Lake George, N. Y., traveled on to Alton Bay, N. H., to visit her sister, Mrs. George L. Shaw.

Assisting Mrs. Kline will be Mrs. Robert C. Guenzel, Mrs. Chauncey Barney, Mrs. James N. Ackerman, Mrs. Don Dixon, Mrs. James Diesing and Mrs. Thomas R. Pansing.

Those pouring at the tea tables and assisting in the dining room include Mrs. Robert Simmons, Mrs. Charles Warner, Mrs. Ed Hoyt, Mrs. Gladys Forsythe, Mrs. Fritz Craig, Miss Jeane Shankland, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. Wallalee Spelts, Mrs. C. S. Beck and Miss Norma Carpenter.

Also assisting will be Miss Alice Abel, Mrs. Tal Coonrad, Mrs. Max Meyer, Mrs. Alice Brown Heelan, Mrs. Charles Sherman, Mrs. Richard Larson, Mrs. Joseph Wishart, Mrs. William Stenten, Mrs. Harry Stewart, Mrs. Chauncey Sheldon, Mrs. Merrill Reller, Mrs. Frank Marsh, Mrs. Frank Heintze, Miss Mary Freeman, Mrs. Merle Karnopp, Mrs. Jack Devoe, Mrs. Richard Kosman, Mrs. Don Purvis and Miss Phyllis Samuelson.

Miss Betty Lu Naden, Miss Donna Lemon, Miss Ardis Hunt, Miss Helen Hospidsky, Mrs. Thelma Kingston, Mrs. Curtis D. Kimball, Mrs. Elmer Scheele, Mrs. Gene Tallman, Mrs. Jack Stewart, Mrs. Don Pegler and Mrs. James Evinger will also be assisting.

AND NOW we have some news of vacationers and guests, among whom are Mr. and Mrs. William Crabill who will stop in Lincoln this week-end for a visit with Mr. Crabill's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Crabill. The William Crabills are en route to their home in Marks, Miss., from the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs, Colo., where they have had a holiday. They will be honored at the Country Club Saturday evening at a no-host dinner.

ARRIVING home Monday evening from a three weeks trip through New England, Canada and New York, were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walt and their children, Mary and Janice. Mr. Walt attended the Lions Convention in New York City, and while in the East the Walts visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crabill, formerly of Lincoln who now live in Old Greenwich, Conn., and Mrs. Walt's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tibbets, of Croton Falls, N. Y., also one-time Nebraska residents.

ALSO ON the homecomers list are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whitworth and their daughter, Miss Marian Whitworth who returned early last week from Detroit where they attended the wedding of Miss Carolyn Finnell and Robert Heider on Saturday, July 3. En route home, the Whitworths stopped in Toronto, Canada.

UNDERSTAND that Dr. and Mrs. John Thompson and their two sons, Johnny and Jimmy of Auburn, were in town this week as the guests of Dr. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Thompson. The John Thompsons, of course, were Lincoln residents until about a year ago.

Has Morning Ceremony

Miss Marilyn Jean McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McClure of St. Paul, became the bride of Donald Francis Rocke, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Rocke of Hallam, at 9:30 o'clock on Saturday morning, July 10 at St. Mary's Cathedral in Lincoln. Father Aloysius Piorkowski of St. James Church in Cortland, read the lines of the double ring ceremony.

As the guests were seated, Miss Catherine Gillespie played a prelude of organ music and also accompanied Ronald Hazard of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., who sang.

Mrs. Ronald Hazard of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a pastel blue frock with white accessories. A corsage of pale pink carnations completed her costume.

The bride chose for her wedding a bluish pink frock with matching accessories and carried a white prayer book marked with pink carnations and white daisies.

Dean Rocke of Victorville, Calif., was his brother's best man and Roger McClure of St. Paul, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

A breakfast was held at the Cornhusker Hotel immediately following the ceremony, after which the couple left for a wedding journey to Colorado. They will be at home in Lincoln after July 18.

Mrs. Rocke attended the University of Nebraska and the bridegroom was graduated from the University of Nebraska and is now attending the University of Nebraska College of Law where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

We Hear That

Ted Holtgrewe, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holtgrewe, who was recently commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Marine Air Corps, has been in Lincoln for several weeks visiting his parents. Lt. Holtgrewe has been stationed at Kingsville, Tex., and on Saturday will leave for his new post, Altora Field, near Santa Ana, Calif. Lt. Holtgrewe attended the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

Ceremony In Albion

MR. AND MRS. VELDA NORWIN STAHL

Cathedral candles burning in branched candelabra and basket arrangements of garden flowers formed the background for the marriage of Miss Jo Ann Carroll Schmadeke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmadeke of Albion, and Velda Norwin Stahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Stahl of Broken Bow, which was solemnized Sunday, July 4 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the Lutheran Church in Albion. The Rev. Dale Stricker read the lines of the ceremony.

Mrs. David Ekstrom, organist, played a prelude of organ music and also accompanied Miss Kay Jean Schmadeke, who sang.

Yellow tulle over taffeta formed the frock worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Jim Amsberry of Cheyenne, Wyo. The fitted bodice narrowed at the waist and the full skirt was in the waltz length. She carried a bouquet of green carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Norma Jean Nelson of Albion wore a green frock styled identically to that of the honor attendant and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. Miss Debbie Jo Adams was the flower girl and was frocked in pink tulle over taffeta, and the ringbearer was Marlin Stahl.

White Chantilly lace formed the long-sleeved bodice of the bride's gown. The moulded basque featured a Peter Pan collar and a yoke of illusion and the full skirt of net over satin ended in a train. A satin tiara dotted with seed pearls held the bride's veil of illusion and she carried a white Bible marked with pink and white carnations.

Jim Amsberry of Cheyenne, Wyo., was the best man and the groomsman was Charles Thompson of Ansley. Gerald Stahl of Adams, brother of the bridegroom and Oliver Loken of Albion seated the guests.

The couple left for a trip to Yankton and Pickstown, S.D., following a reception which was held in the church parlors. For traveling Mrs. Stahl chose a frock of gray nylon and white accessories. They will reside in Lincoln.

Mr. Stahl attended the University of Nebraska.

Cucumbers Star Today

Like so many well-mated combinations, fish and cucumbers seem to bring out the best in each other. Any salad of cold sea food teamed with this refreshing vegetable is a success, and here is a slightly different treatment of both, using the now plentiful cuke and either canned or fresh-frozen shrimp.

Cucumber Boats

4 cucumbers, 6 to 7 in. long
½ cup diced cucumber centers
¾ lb. ready-to-eat shrimp
1 cup celery, diced
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
Head lettuce or other salad greens

Wash cucumbers and cut a ½-inch lengthwise strip from each. Scoop out centers with a spoon. Dice ½ cup of the centers and the shrimp (save 16 whole shrimp for garnishing). Mix with celery, lemon juice, mayonnaise, salt and black pepper. Spoon the mixture into the cucumber boats. Place on a bed of salad greens. Garnish each with four whole shrimp.

Yield: four servings.

Relaxing Effect

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

In these days when a hot bath is simply a matter of turning a faucet, it's hard to realize that the bath during many periods in history was a special occasion.

During the Dark Ages people also turned dark with grime! In Medieval times, castles had big oval wooden tubs, and a bucket-brigade to fill them. The Crusaders who went to the East returned with the idea of the Oriental vapor bath—but the lack of a sufficient water supply kept it a luxury.

Praise be to such modern servants as the automatic gas water heater that assures hot water in the right amount and at the right temperature! For there's nothing so relaxing, so reviving to the spirits as the good old hot bath.

Anti-Fatigue Treatment

You never know when nervous fatigue is going to make you feel like lead, when unaccustomed exercise will make your muscles stiff and sore. The quickest, surest antidote in such emergencies is a bath. Not a quickie, but a soak that's remedial in its very lack of time limit.

Have the bath water as hot as you can stand, and drink a glass of cold water before jumping into the tub. This induces perspiration, thus rids the system of poisonous wastes. Soak for 10 or 15 minutes before soaping yourself, then soap slowly. You'll feel your muscles unkinking and your mind letting go of its tight little worries.

To prolong the luxury of the tub treatment, replenish the hot water by letting the faucet run once or twice. After the tubbing, rub dry with a soft, warm towel and use your dusting powder or cologne in lavish quanties.

Boon To Sleep

When you feel too keyed up to fall asleep, instead of plumping the pillow into knots wi your tossing and turning, head for the tub! A tepid bath is just the thing to relax your body and bring restful sleep. Let yourself go limp as you stretch out in a tubful of scented suds. Do everything slowly: use soap and washcloth in slow motion, rub lightly instead of briskly. Your eyes will be half closed by the time you slip into bed.

It's no wonder the ancients believed hot water to have miraculous power—it does! For a leisurely tub bath is an essential beauty aid. The water softens the skin, opens the pores, banishes the lines of fatigue.

Why is it that some families have ALL the talent and the rest of us struggle along on their ideas or what we can pick up from others equally clever? This morning, we are visiting the Ben James household where we find the kiddies, Jimmy, Stacy and Bill helping mother whip up her notorious Celery Seed Dressing, which is a hit both summer and winter on all fruit salads. The unfair part is that Mrs. James finds time for such creative cookery in addition to interior decorating, art, gardening, entertaining, and even canning or bottling various goodies to gi to her fortunate friends arou the holiday season.

CELERY SEED DRESSIN

Mix together in a deep bo 1 t. dry mustard, paprika, sa and celery seed. Add 1 t. oni juice. Measure separately 1 salad oil, 4 T. vinegar, and 1 sugar. Start adding to mixture VERY slowly, a lit at a time in this order: vinegar, sugar, until very thi ending with oil. (An elect mixer is best for this, since y must beat constantly.) Ke indefinitely in the refrigerat

Can Anyone Spot A Sports Tie-In?

Miss Rankin Suber, who is Miss South Carolina of 1954, wins a spot on The Lincoln Star's sports page today. Member of thhe staff, after an exhausive search for a sports Tie-in, discovered that Miss Suber is a cheer leader at the University of South Carolina. That was good enough. (AP Wirephoto.)

Stars May Inspire Indians To Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — Will the feats of sore-fingered Al Rosen, Bobby Avila and Larry Doby in the All-Star game inspire confidence that will make the Cleveland Indians a big winner?

That was one of the questions that arose Wednesday as the major league baseball clubs prepared to resume championship play after a mid-season lull interrupted by a rhubarb over rescheduling a postponed game and by various clinical reports on injured players.

The Indians in recent years have been tabbed as a club likely to fold when the pennant pressure becomes heavy. And the loss of four straight games last weekend to the third-place White Sox looked suspiciously like the beginning of a collapse.

But Cleveland's All-Star representatives were anything but lethargic athletes who looked ready to give up. Rosen, who didn't want to play because of a painfully injured finger, got his dander up when he fanned his first time at bat and finished as the dominant figure in the game. He accounted for five runs, nearly half the American League total. Avila cracked three hits and Doby opened the winning rally with a game-tying pinch homer.

The Indians resume action tonight against the tottering Athletics in Philadelphia with only a half-game margin over the five-time champion Yankees.

The schedule rhubarb, which could be serious if some of the clubs or players concerned choose to follow it up, arose when the Braves secured permission to play off a postponed game against Brooklyn at Milwaukee Wednesday night.

Many of the players consider this an infringement on the pleasant three-day interlude created by the All-Star game and a possible precedent for playing other games during this customary rest period.

And some clubs, notably the New York Giants, objected on the grounds that playing a single game would give the Dodgers a better chance of improving their position than they'd have in a doubleheader.

Following this disputed contest, the Dodgers have a twi-night doubleheader at Milwaukee tonight while the Giants play a single night game at St. Louis.

Several of the clubs will go into the second half of the season with a new look that may affect the pennant races. The Dodgers, 5½ games behind the Giants at All-Star time, have been cheered by the news Roy Campanella's finger injury isn't as serious as he thought and lefthander Johnny Podres will be able to pitch before long. Podres, sidelined by an appendectomy June 23, rejoined the club much sooner than expected.

But on the debit side of the Dodger book are a couple of minor injuries bothering Duke Snider and Jackie Robinson.

Another returnee of importance is Milwaukee's Bobby Thomson, who fractured an ankle during spring training and hasn't played all season. He'll be available only for pinch-hitting duties for a while.

CHIEFS END CARD JINX

Noel Oquendo Gains 4-3 Win Over Pesky Birds

By Norris Anderson
Sports Editor, The Star

Noel (Chico) Oquendo stood for courage and Skipper Whitey Wietelmann was the epitome of percentage management Wednesday night as the aroused Lincoln Chiefs shaded the menacing Omaha Cardinals, 4-3, in a tense Sherman Field duel.

With goose bumps and quivers riding through an audience of 1,198, the Chiefs courageously burst the chains of a seven-game skein of losses to their Omaha tormentors. No victory was ever more earned

Now only one game behind fourth-place Sioux City and winners of five of their last six outings, the Chiefs will toss Vance Carlson (6-4) at the Cards tonight in a single Ladies Night game at 8 o'clock. Manager Ferrell Anderson of Omaha is expected to counter with his ace, Bob Clear (12-4), the league's top hurler next to Andy Bush.

Rallying behind Oquendo's fighting heart, the Chiefs put together two-run and third and challenged the explosive Cardinals to overcome the lead.

Overcome that lead, carefully-nursed since the opening frame, the Cardinals nearly did in the ninth inning. At this point, Wietelmann's managerial savy wore a halo.

After swift Don McLennan doubled and Barney Elser became an infield causalty, Wietelmann removed the righthanded Oquendo in favor of southpaw Don Stoker to face the next two lefthanded batters, Neal Hertweck and Jim (The Jinx) King.

Stoker coaxed Hertweck to fly to center, but yielded a run-producing single for King.

Up stepped the always-dangerous Whitey Ries, a right-handed swatter. So Whitey played his hunch again and summoned Roger Wright, who tosses from right side.

The hunch paid rich dividends as Wright required only two pitches to entice Ries into forcing King at second for the final out.

Bleachers and grandstand alike yielded a sigh of relief that was reportedly heard at 13th and O. One of the partisans was Whitey's mother, Mrs. Nellie Wietelmann of Milwaukee, here for a brief visit with her son.

Lincoln jumped into a two-run lead in the first on singles by Billy Smith and Andy Anderson, mixed in with a hit batsman, a walk and a fielder's choice.

Omaha gained a run in the second as Al Viotto circled on a fielder's choice. Manager Ferrell Anderson's single and Chico Mayer's sacrifice fly.

The Chiefs bounced back in the third for two more runs. Walt Linden's vicious double drove in Jones (single) and Anderson (walk). Walt might have had a triple, but he overslid third. Viotto's towering fly road a 20-mile wind to a Cardinal home run in the fourth.

A herky-jerk newcomer named Floyd Melliere relieved starter Ron Kump in the fifth and held the Chiefs at bay until the old master, Lou Ciola, took over in the eighth.

Oquendo, meanwhile, was yielding 11 hits and getting into more jams than a kid in a pantry, but each time managed to pitch his way out.

One of Sherman Field's all-time great fielding plays saved the Puerto Rican firebrand in the seventh. Hertweck was on first with a walk when the omnipresent King lashed a wicked shot far to Red McQuillen's right. It looked like King was to double home a run.

Yet here was McQuillen, sprinting like Twenty Grand, knocking down and catching the liner while on the dead run. Before he could apply the brakes, he tossed a strike to First Baseman Johny Jones to double up Herweck. Sherman Field has never seen a more difficult double play.

After Red's superb bit of heroism, you somehow felt that the Chiefs couldn't lose this one. They seemed to feel the same way.

Oquendo

A Hurricane Is Roped

Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, New York heavyweight, falls half in and half outside the ropes after a barrage of blows by Cuba's giant Nino Valdes in the second round of a scheduled 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden Wednesday night. Referee Al Berl watches as Jackson tries to regain balance. Immediately afterward, Valdes sent Jackson down to the canvas three times and automatically won by a technical knockout in 2:36 of the round. (AP Wirephoto.)

Hurricane Only A Gentle Breeze; Cooled By Valdes

NEW YORK (AP)—Nino Valdes, the Cuban giant, turned Hurricane Tommy Jackson into a harmless zephyr Wednesday night, stopping the 22-year-old Negro from New York's Rockaway Beach in 2:35 of the second round at Madison Square Garden to move toward a title shot at heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano.

Valdes weighed 204, Jackson 190½.

Valdes, an 11 to 5 underdog, tamed the Hurricane with savage body blows, rocked him with solid right hand punches to the jaw and floored him three times for an automatic TKO. Many in the crowd jammed around ringside claimed the third knockdown actually was a push but Referee Al Berl ruled a knockdown.

It was no contest for the bewildered Jackson, who had no steam and showed only one brief flash of his famed hurricane-like style. He was completely overwhelmed by the 6 foot 3 Cuban who is ranked No. 2 among the heavyweight contenders.

Valdes was in charge throughout the first round and quickly slowed down the Hurricane's bouncing drive at the start of the second.

A vicious right to the chin sent the Hurricane sagging half way through the ropes. Although the time keeper's count reached four, Berl ruled no knockdown. A few seconds later big Nino was on him again, sending Jackson sprawling in Valdes' corner. Hurricane was up at two but had to take an automatic eight-count.

Valdes spun the floundering Jackson with a solid right hand punch and dropped him to both knees with another right. The Hurricane got up at one but once more had to take the automatic eight.

bing punch to the back, accompanied by a shove sent Jackson to the deck.

Sensing a chance to wrap up the evening's work at an early hour, Valdes drove Jackson into the ropes near his own corner. A club-

Referee Berl, ruling a third knockdown stopped the uneven contest automatically under the rules of the New York State Athletic Commission.

It was the first knockout defeat and third loss in the 21-fight career of Jackson who rose from the prelim ranks to national fame by stopping Red Layne, whipping Clarence Henry and knocking out Dan Bucceroni during the winter

Brooks Squeeze Past Braves 2-1

Snider's Sacrifices Provide Edge In Twelve Inning Game

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Duke Snider's sacrifice flies in the first and last innings scored all the runs the Brooklyn Dodgers needed to beat Milwaukee, 2-1, 12 innings Wednesday before a crowd of 35,470 which boosted the Braves' home attendance over the million total.

Snider's high pokes to left field came in almost identical situations and scored Junior Gilliam with both runs. Gilliam and Pee Wee Reese singled in order in both the first and 12th innings, with the fleet Dodger second baseman tagging up and coming in after Hank Aaron's catches on the Snider flies.

Jim Hughes, making his 32nd relief appearance of the year for Brooklyn, held the Braves hitless after taking over for Russ Meyer in the ninth and gained his fourth win against one defeat. Lew Burdette, who went the distance for Milwaukee, was tagged with his 10th loss against seven triumphs.

Gil Hodges' third hit in the 11th was his 1,000th in his major league career.

The Braves' lone run came off Meyer in the eighth, Aaron smacking a single to right to score Billy Bruton who had walked and advanced on a sacrifice.

Bobby Thomson made his first appearance for the Braves in a National League game as a pinch hitter with two out in the 12th. He drew a walk, but Aaron flied out to end the game.

Home Finale Is Won, 11-0, By Optimists

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

The Lincoln Optimists won their 16th game in 18 starts Wednesday night, beating the Fairbury Fords 11-0 in their home finale at Sherman Field.

Dick Welch scored his fourth win in a five-inning affair which was called midway through a wild fifth frame. The 7 p.m. curfew ended the runaway.

Through the first three innings, the game was a close battle between the 14-year-old Welch and Harley Slater, Fairbury's curveballing righthander.

Welch was in trouble only in the first inning when the Fords loaded the bases with none out. He got one batter to tap back to the mound and then turned an attempted bunt into a double play to get out of trouble.

Jon Lutz opened the Lincoln first with a single off the pitcher's glove and scored on Cliff Hardesty's scorching double down the left field line. A wild pitch and Ron Bayless's long fly sent home one more run.

Those two would have been enough, but three errors and Slater's wildness let in three more in the fourth. Slater's slow sliders and curves were effective, but he threw six of them past the catcher in the course of the game.

The Optimists play at Hastings Friday night in the final game of the season. Coach Dick Cecil's crew holds two victories over Hastings this season, and Dick Hergenrader will be on the mound as the Optimists go after number three.

Following the Hastings game the Optimists play York in a Legion district playoff.

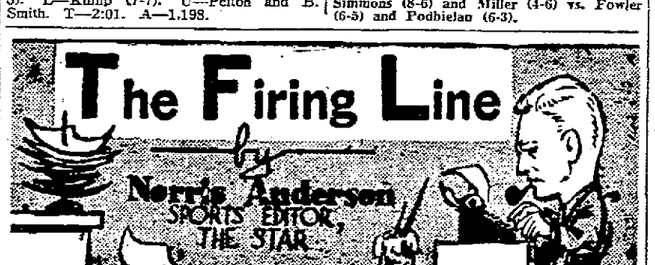
The Firing Line



History has oftimes shown that it's the athletes who get away who will some day come back to haunt you.

Look at what John Magliolo, former Sherman Field favorite, does to his old Lincoln team. He usually makes that catch or gets that hit that hurts you most.

Richie Ashburn

Carroll Hardy of Colorado and Buddy Leake of Oklahoma, two of the Big Seven's top halfbacks, were once briefly on the University of Nebraska campus.

Hardy, in particular, has been a huge menace to Husker teams ever since. His ball-carrying sparked the Buffs' win in 1951 and provoked a last-ditch tie in 1952.

Now comes word of another athlete, briefly on the Cornhusker campus and now in the raiment of a foe.

He is Homer Scott, Jr., of Sheridan, Wyo., rated as the backfield find of the decade at Colorado where he'll be a sophomore this autumn.

Scott, son of a prominent Nebraska alum, looked over the Husker campus last summer. He attended the NCAA track meet in June, liked the Nebraska layout, but finally decided on Colorado.

Let Chet (Rocky Mountain News) Nelson, the best sports-writer in the west, take it from there:

"There is little question about the talents of the highly-rated Homer Scott and John Bayut. Not since the days of Whizzer White, have folks around Boulder been as high on anyone as they are on Scott.

"He looks the part of a terrific halfback. He has poise, good speed for his 190 pounds and a competitive spirit."

Chet, the old redhead, knows his football flesh as well as his horseflesh.

Huskers on the Colorado premises Oct. 23 beware of Mr. Scott. He's bound to be a broom jockey, breathing sensationalism on the gridiron.

Richie Ashburn, the Tilden, Neb., fleetfoot, is featured in the current issue of Look. Naturally, they stress his speed which is his main stock in trade.

Richie has more than mere speed, as you know. His six-year National League batting average is .312; in three All-Star games he has hit .556. Twice he has led the league in hits with 221 in 1951 and 205 in 1953.

He's a left-handed swatter who lines 'em into all fields. His tremendous speed enables him to beat out a lot of bunts and infield rollers, also hurries pitchers and infielders into fumbles and bad throws.

Richie has frequently been timed going to first by chaps holding stop watches. Look Magazine timed the Nebraska comet with seven electric clocks, with second and one-100th-of-a-second hands.

The tests show that Ashburn reached first base in 3.5 seconds on a drag bunt and, on a run after a full swing, in 3.59.

Is there a faster man getting down to first in the majors? Mickey Mantle, you say. Well, we've gotta be shown.

Scarlet and Cream should be the colors of the Old Stag team in the city softball league. For the club is loaded with lads who wore the scarlet of the Huskers.

Look at 'em. Johnny Bordogna, Jon McWilliams, Andy Loehr, Bob Wagner, Don Weber, Don Strasheim and Duane Rankin.

Darned if the Old Stags don't make the football season seem a bit closer.

Stars May Inspire Indians To Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — Will the feats of sore-fingered Al Rosen, Bobby Avila and Larry Doby in the All-Star game inspire confidence that will make the Cleveland Indians a big winner?

That was one of the questions that arose Wednesday as the major league baseball clubs prepared to resume championship play after a mid-season lull interrupted by a rhubarb over rescheduling a postponed game and by various clinical reports on injured players.

The Indians in recent years have been tabbed as a club likely to fold when the pennant pressure becomes heavy. And the loss of four straight games last weekend to the third-place White Sox looked suspiciously like the beginning of a collapse.

But Cleveland's All-Star representatives were anything but lethargic athletes who looked ready to give up. Rosen, who didn't want to play because of a painfully injured finger, got his dander up when he fanned his first time at bat and finished as the dominant figure in the game. He accounted for five runs, nearly half the American League total. Avila cracked three hits and Doby opened the winning rally with a game-tying pinch homer.

The Indians resume action tonight against the tottering Athletics in Philadelphia with only a half-game margin over the five-time champion Yankees.

The schedule rhubarb, which could be serious if some of the clubs or players concerned choose to follow it up, arose when the Braves secured permission to play off a postponed game against Brooklyn at Milwaukee Wednesday night.

Many of the players consider this an infringement on the pleasant three-day interlude created by the All-Star game and a possible precedent for playing other games during this customary rest period.

And some clubs, notably the New York Giants, objected on the grounds that playing a single game would give the Dodgers a better chance of improving their position than they'd have in a doubleheader.

Following this disputed contest, the Dodgers have a twi-night doubleheader at Milwaukee tonight while the Giants play a single night game at St. Louis.

Several of the clubs will go into the second half of the season with a new look that may affect the pennant races. The Dodgers, 5½ games behind the Giants at All-Star time, have been cheered by the news Roy Campanella's finger injury isn't as serious as he thought and lefthander Johnny Podres will be able to pitch before long. Podres, sidelined by an appendectomy June 23, rejoined the club much sooner than expected.

But on the debit side of the Dodger book are a couple of minor injuries bothering Duke Snider and Jackie Robinson.

Another returnee of importance is Milwaukee's Bobby Thomson, who fractured an ankle during spring training and hasn't played all season. He'll be available only for pinch-hitting duties for a while.

CHIEFS END CARD JINX

Noel Oquendo Gains 4-3 Win Over Pesky Birds

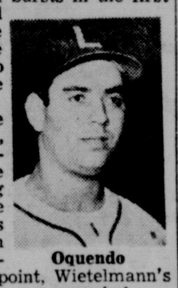
By Norris Anderson
Sports Editor, The Star

Noel (Chico) Oquendo stood for courage and Skipper Whitey Wietelmann was the epitome of percentage management Wednesday night as the aroused Lincoln Chiefs shaded the menacing Omaha Cardinals, 4-3, in a tense Sherman Field duel.

With goose bumps and quivers riding through an audience of 1,198, the Chiefs courageously burst the chains of a seven-game skein of losses to their Omaha tormentors. No victory was ever more earned

Now only one game behind fourth-place Sioux City and winners of five of their last six outings, the Chiefs will toss Vance Carlson (6-4) at the Cards tonight in a single Ladies Night game at 8 o'clock. Manager Ferrell Anderson of Omaha is expected to counter with his ace, Bob Clear (12-4), the league's top hurler next to Andy Bush.

Rallying behind Oquendo's fighting heart, the Chiefs put together two-run bursts in the first and third and challenged the explosive Cardinals to overcome the lead.



Oquendo

Overcome that lead, carefully nursed since the opening frame, the Cardinals nearly did in the ninth inning. At this point, Wietelmann's managerial savy wore a halo.

After swift Don McLennan doubled and Barney Elser became an infield causalty, Wietelmann removed the righthanded Oquendo in favor of southpaw Don Stoker to face the next two lefthanded batters, Neal Hertweck and Jim (The Jinx) King.

Stoker coaxed Hertweck to fly to center, but yielded a run-producing single for King.

Up stepped the always-dangerous Whitey Ries, a right-handed swatter. So Whitey played his hunch again and summoned Roger Wright, who tosses from right side.

The hunch paid rich dividends as Wright required only two pitches to entice Ries into forcing King at second for the final out.

Bleachers and grandstand alike yielded a sigh of relief that was reportedly heard at 13th and O. One of the partisans was Whitey's mother, Mrs. Nellie Wietelmann of Milwaukee, here for a brief visit with her son.

Lincoln jumped into a two-run lead in the first on singles by Billy Smith and Andy Anderson, mixed in with a hit batsman, a walk and a fielder's choice.

Omaha gained a run in the second as Al Viotto circled on a fielder's choice, Manager Ferrell Anderson's single and Chico Mayer's sacrifice fly.

The Chiefs bounced back in the third for two more runs. Walt Linden's vicious double drove in Jones (single) and Anderson (walk). Walt might have had a triple, but he overslid third. Viotto's towering fly road a 20-mile wind to a Cardinal home run in the fourth.

A herky-jerk newcomer named Floyd Melliere relieved starter Ron Kump in the fifth and held the Chiefs at bay until the old master, Lou Ciola, took over in the eighth.

Oquendo, meanwhile, was yielding 11 hits and getting into more jams than a kid in a pantry, but each time managed to pitch his way out.

One of Sherman Field's all-time great fielding plays saved the Puerto Rican firebrand in the seventh. Hertweck was on first with a walk when the omnipresent King lashed a wicked shot far to Red McQuillen's right. It looked like King was to double home a run.

Yet here was McQuillen, sprinting like Twenty Grand, knocking down and catching the liner while on the dead run. Before he could apply the brakes, he tossed a strike to First Baseman Johny Jones to double up Herweck. Sherman Field has never seen a more difficult double play.

After Red's superb bit of heroism, you somehow felt that the Chiefs couldn't lose this one. They seemed to feel the same way.

A Hurricane Is Roped

Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, New York heavyweight, falls half in and half outside the ropes after a barrage of blows by Cuba's giant Nino Valdes in the second round of a scheduled 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden Wednesday night. Referee Al Berl watches as Jackson tries to regain balance. Immediately afterward, Valdes sent Jackson down to the canvas three times and automatically won by a technical knockout in 2:36 of the round. (AP Wirephoto.)

Hurricane Only A Gentle Breeze; Cooled By Valdes

NEW YORK (AP)—Nino Valdes, the Cuban giant, turned Hurricane Tommy Jackson into a harmless zephyr Wednesday night, stopping the 22-year-old Negro from New York's Rockaway Beach in 2:35 of the second round at Madison Square Garden to move toward a title shot at heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano.

Valdes weighed 204, Jackson 190½.

Valdes, an 11 to 5 underdog, tamed the Hurricane with savage body blows, rocked him with solid right hand punches to the jaw and floored him three times for an automatic TKO. Many in the crowd jammed around ringside claimed the third knockdown actually was a push but Referee Al Berl ruled a knockdown.

It was no contest for the bewildered Jackson, who had no steam and showed only one brief flash of his famed hurricane-like style. He was completely overwhelmed by the 6 foot 3 Cuban who is ranked No. 2 among the heavyweight contenders.

Valdes was in charge throughout the first round and quickly slowed down the Hurricane's bouncing drive at the start of the second.

A vicious right to the chin sent the Hurricane sagging half way through the ropes. Although the time keeper's count reached four, Berl ruled no knockdown. A few seconds later big Nino was on him again, sending Jackson sprawling in Valdes' corner. Hurricane was up at two but had to take an automatic eight-count.

Valdes spun the floundering Jackson with a solid right hand punch and dropped him to both knees with another right. The Hurricane got up at one but once more had to take the automatic eight.

bing punch to the back, accompanied by a shove sent Jackson to the deck.

Sensing a chance to wrap up the evening's work at an early hour, Valdes drove Jackson into the ropes near his own corner. A club-

Referee Berl, ruling a third knockdown stopped the uneven contest automatically under the rules of the New York State Athletic Commission.

It was the first knockout defeat and third loss in the 21-fight career of Jackson who rose from the prelim ranks to national fame by stopping Red Layne, whipping Clarence Henry and knocking out Dan Bucceroni during the winter

Brooks Squeeze Past Braves 2-1

Snider's Sacrifices Provide Edge In Twelve Inning Game

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Duke Snider's sacrifice flies in the first and last innings scored all the runs the Brooklyn Dodgers needed to beat Milwaukee, 2-1, 12 innings Wednesday before a crowd of 35,470 which boosted the Braves' home attendance over the million total.

Snider's high pokes to left field came in almost identical situations and scored Junior Gilliam with both runs. Gilliam and Pee Wee Reese singled in order in both the first and 12th innings, with the fleet Dodger second baseman tagging up and coming in after Hank Aaron's catches on the Snider flies.

Jim Hughes, making his 32nd relief appearance of the year for Brooklyn, held the Braves hitless after taking over for Russ Meyer in the ninth and gained his fourth win against one defeat. Lew Burdette, who went the distance for Milwaukee, was tagged with his 10th loss against seven triumphs.

Gil Hodges' third hit in the 11th was his 1,000th in his major league career.

The Braves' lone run came off Meyer in the eighth, Aaron smacking a single to right to score Billy Bruton who had walked and advanced on a sacrifice.

Bobby Thomson made his first appearance for the Braves in a National League game as a pinch hitter with two out in the 12th. He drew a walk, but Aaron flied out to end the game.

Home Finale Is Won, 11-0, By Optimists

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

The Lincoln Optimists won their 16th game in 18 starts Wednesday night, beating the Fairbury Fords 11-0 in their home finale at Sherman Field.

Dick Welch scored his fourth win in a five-inning affair which was called midway through a wild fifth frame. The 7 p.m. curfew ended the runaway.

Through the first three innings, the game was a close battle between the 14-year-old Welch and Harley Slater, Fairbury's curveballing righthander.

Welch was in trouble only in the first inning when the Fords loaded the bases with none out. He got one batter to tap back to the mound and then turned an attempted bunt into a double play to get out of trouble.

Jon Lutz opened the Lincoln first with a single off the pitcher's glove and scored on Cliff Hardesty's scorching double down the left field line. A wild pitch and Ron Bayless's long fly sent home one more run.

Those two would have been enough, but three errors and Slater's wildness let in three more in the fourth. Slater's slow sliders and curves were effective, but he threw six of them past the catcher in the course of the game.

The Optimists play at Hastings Friday night in the final game of the season. Coach Dick Cecil's crew holds two victories over Hastings this season, and Dick Hergenrader will be on the mound as the Optimists go after number three.

Following the Hastings game the Optimists play York in a Legion district playoff.

Gagne Beats Rocca

Verne Gagne successfully defended his United States wrestling title against Argentine Rocca in Omaha Wednesday.

The bout featured as the Centennial Wrestling Match, drew 16,000 people.

VERN GAGNE

Gagne Ring Card Given

. . . Fairgrounds Monday

Promoter Adam Krieger has announced the remainder of the card for the Vern Gagne-Roy McClarity American wrestle championship in the front of the fairgrounds outdoor grandstand. Monday night.

Gagne, the champion, was signed by Krieger to meet McClarity, the Canadian king, after the pair wrestled to a thrilling draw in Chicago three weeks ago.

The Dusek brothers of Omaha will figure in both of the other bouts on the card. Ernie will meet Larry Hamilton, while Emil will go against Steve McGill.

The Gagne-McClarity match will go two falls out of three with a 60-minute time limit, Krieger said. The state athletic commission must appoint the referee since it is an official championship match.

The Firing Line

History has oftimes shown that it's the athletes who get away who will some day come back to haunt you.

Look at what John Magliolo, former Sherman Field favorite, does to his old Lincoln team. He usually makes that catch or gets that hit that hurts you most.

Richie Ashburn

Carroll Hardy of Colorado and Buddy Leake of Oklahoma, two of the Big Seven's top halfbacks, were once briefly on the University of Nebraska campus.

Hardy, in particular, has been a huge menace to Husker teams ever since. His ball-carrying sparked the Buffs' win in 1951 and provoked a last-ditch tie in 1952.

Now comes word of another athlete, briefly on the Cornhusker campus and now in the raiment of a foe.

He is Homer Scott, Jr., of Sheridan, Wyo., rated as the backfield find of the decade at Colorado where he'll be a sophomore this autumn.

Scott, son of a prominent Nebraska alum, looked over the Husker campus last summer. He attended the NCAA track meet in June, liked the Nebraska layout, but finally decided on Colorado.

Let Chet (Rocky Mountain News) Nelson, the best sportswriter in the west, take it from there:

"There is little question about the talents of the highly-rated Homer Scott and John Bayut. Not since the days of Whizzer White, have folks around Boulder been as high on anyone as they are on Scott.

"He looks the part of a terrific halfback. He has poise, good speed for his 190 pounds and a competitive spirit."

Chet, the old redhead, knows his football flesh as well as his horseflesh.

Huskers on the Colorado premises Oct. 23 beware of Mr. Scott. He's bound to be a broom jockey, breathing sensationalism on the gridiron.

Richie Ashburn, the Tilden, Neb., fleetfoot, is featured in the current issue of Look. Naturally, they stress his speed which is his main stock in trade.

Richie has more than mere speed, as you know. His six-year National League batting average is .312; in three All-Star games he has hit .556. Twice he has led the league in hits with 221 in 1951 and 205 in 1953.

He's a left-handed swatter who lines 'em into all fields. His tremendous speed enables him to beat out a lot of bunts and infield rollers, also hurries pitchers and infielders into fumbles and bad throws.

Richie has frequently been timed going to first by chaps holding stop watches. Look Magazine timed the Nebraska comet with seven electric clocks, with second and one-100th-of-a-second hands.

The tests show that Ashburn reached first base in 3.5 seconds on a drag bunt and, on a run after a full swing, in 3.59.

Is there a faster man getting down to first in the majors? Mickey Mantle, you say. Well, we've gotta be shown.

Look at 'em. Johnny Bordogna, Jon McWilliams, Andy Loehr, Bob Wagner, Don Weber, Don Strasheim and Duane Rankin.

Jo Fisher Impressive In City Golf First Round

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

A former champion was moving strongly Wednesday along the fairways and greens of the Hillcrest Country Club as the first round of the Women's City Golf Tournament was conducted.

Jo Fisher, best of the Capital City women swingers in 1952, overwhelmed Mrs. Charles Bosworth, 8-7, in the most impressive triumph on the opening day of this 16th annual tournament.

Jean Hyland, the defending champion, strode into today's quarterfinals as the 5-4 conqueror of Marie Folkers. Mrs Fisher today will play Peg Anderson, 3-1 victor over Verla Lake, while Mrs. Hyland must face Mrs. Lee Liggett, 2-1 conqueror of Mrs. Ted Franks in one of the closer matches of the warm day.

Sarah Lehman stopped Mrs. Ed Taber, 4-3, and is the quarterfinal opponent of Thelma Wood, an impressive 6-5 victor over Dene Pierce. Mrs. E. D. Murray eliminated Clara Rausch, 4-3, to earn the spot against Jane Dobson, a winner by 4-3 over young Phyllis Williamson.

The Nine-Hole medalist, Sally Wilson, battled to a 2-1 triumph over Mrs. E. R. Jorgenson in a match which may have established the pattern for this strong division of the tournament.

Helen Stefanison beat Helen Kalin and Ruth Squire ousted Abbie Ballew by 4-3 scores, but the other contests were tight and the survivors may effect sparks in the Thursday matches.

Clara Logan carried Nancy Hallam to the tenth hole before falling in the best match of the day. Jeanette Turner upset Norma Slothower, 3-1, and Susie Swingle startled Mary Knorr 2-1.

Medalist Sue Pierce went past Carolyn Kiess by 5-4 in the Junior Division in which she is the favorite. Kit Thompson eliminated Mary Alice Crabill, 4-3.

Jo Fisher Impressive In City Golf First Round

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

A former champion was moving strongly Wednesday along the fairways and greens of the Hillcrest Country Club as the first round of the Women's City Golf Tournament was conducted.

Jo Fisher, best of the Capital City women swingers in 1952, overwhelmed Mrs. Charles Bosworth, 8-7, in the most impressive triumph on the opening day of this 16th annual tournament.

Jean Hyland, the defending champion, strode into today's quarterfinals as the 5-4 conqueror of Marie Folkers. Mrs Fisher today will play Peg Anderson, 3-1 victor over Verla Lake, while Mrs. Hyland must face Mrs. Lee Liggett, 2-1 conqueror of Mrs. Ted Franks in one of the closer matches of the warm day.

Sarah Lehman stopped Mrs. Ed Taber, 4-3, and is the quarterfinal opponent of Thelma Wood, an impressive 6-5 victor over Dene Pierce. Mrs. E. D. Murray eliminated Clara Rausch, 4-3, to earn the spot against Jane Dobson, a winner by 4-3 over young Phyllis Williamson.

The Nine-Hole medalist, Sally Wilson, battled to a 2-1 triumph over Mrs. E. R. Jorgenson in a match which may have established the pattern for this strong division of the tournament.

Helen Stefanison beat Helen Kalin and Ruth Squire ousted Abbie Ballew by 4-3 scores, but the other contests were tight and the survivors may effect sparks in the Thursday matches.

Deadline Is Midnight Tonight

Big Game Permit Requests Flood Office

With the July 15 midnight deadline only about 24 hours away, the State Game Commission office in Lincoln was flooded with applications for Nebraska big game hunting permits.

Commission Secretary Paul Gilbert said while the slow pace of applications earlier had caused him to believe a drawing might not be necessary this year, the sudden flood Wednesday had caused him to revise his estimate.

Up to Wednesday only 715 applications had been made for the 4,000 deer and 500 antelope permits to be issued for the 1954 season. But Gilbert said Wednesday nearly his entire staff was at work processing the onslaught of applications and his office was unable to keep count.

A breakdown by areas of the total deer hunting applications made by last week end revealed the following: Area I, 192 applications or less than 10 per cent of the allowed permits; Area II, 219 applications or less than 11 per cent of the total allowed permits; Area III, 95 applications or less than 20 per cent of the total allowed permits, and Area IV, 159 applications or less than 32 per cent of the total allowed permits.

The opening season for antelope will be Sept. 11, 12 and 13. The bag limit will be one antelope, either sex. The daily season will open one-half hour before sunrise and will close one-half hour after sunset.

The open season dates for deer will be as follows:

Area I Dec. 4-8 inclusive: Banner, Cheyenne, Garden Morrill, Kimball and Scotts Bluff counties.

Area II Dec. 4-8, inclusive: Box Butte, Dawes, Sheridan and Sioux counties.

Area III Dec. 11-15, inclusive: Brown, Cherry, Keya Paha and Rock counties.

Area IV Dec. 11-15, inclusive: Boyd, Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Holt and Knox counties.

The season bag limit for deer hunters will be one deer, as authorized by area and regulation. Antlerless deer will be hunted on the last day in Areas I and II.

Fishing Set In Grove Lake On July 24

Opening of Grove lake, near Royal in Antelope county, on July 24 for fishing was announced Wednesday by officials of the Nebraska Game Forestation and Parks Commission. The final stocking of 20,000 rainbow trout in the lake has been completed.

There will be only two parking areas open at this time; one at the dam and the other, 100 yards west of the dam on the south side of the road. An access road will be built into the major use area on the west side of the lake but this road will not be completed by the time of opening.

In the major use area there will be provided a boat landing, recreation and concession area. No private cabins will be allowed in the Grove Lake area due to the limited size of the entire state owned area. It is felt that private development would not provide for the best interests of the most people. The grounds work will also be completed at a later date.

Grove Lake is the first Dingle-Johnson financed lake project for Nebraska. The Nebraska Game Commission is allowed 75 cents federal matching money for every 25 cents it invests in such projects. This 75 cents is money collected by the federal government from an 11 per cent tax on fishing tackle sales in the state. The actual cost to the Commission for Grove Lake was a little over $10,000 as the total cost is 75 per cent reimbursable by these federal funds.

Earlier announcements indicated an early opening date, but due to the small size of the initial load of rainbow trout, stocking activities were suspended until the end of June. These trout were supplied to the Game Commission by the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service hatchery at Neosha, Mo. The completion stocking consisted of adult size rainbow trout. Some spawner crappies were also stocked last month.

Hot Weather Hurts Fishing

Summer sun and high temperatures are slowing down both the fish and the fishermen. Although fish pressure was generally heavy during the long holiday week-end, fishermen have been few and far between, according to most of the Conservation Officers' weekly fishing reports.

In a few scattered localities, fishing has been good the past week. The Blue River has been a hot spot for catfish, bullheads and carp with most of the succesful fishing taking place in the evening period. Enders lake and Rock Creek lake, in the south central part of the state, have been producing some bass, crappie fishing that is fair. Fishing in Enders was also fair for bullheads, catfish and walleyes.

Medicine Creek reservoir area. Hayes lake and Willow Creek had very good fishing. Bass were hitting plugs and minnows in the reservoir and crappie, bullheads, catfish and carp fishing was good, but walleye fishing was slow. The catfish were even hitting deep running plugs. John Minchow, Bartley, caught a 7-pound, 4-ounce catfish on a plug in the reservoir. Ed Cassell, McCook, caught three 9-pound catfish.

Some good catches were reported for the eaastern part of the reservoir chain at Sutherland, Jefferson reservoirs and Lake Maloney, but the over-all fishing success was not too good. Lee Cool, Lincoln, caught a 12 pound walleye on a minnow in Lake Maloney. A 15-pound catfish was caught in Sutherland reservoir by Charles Kunesh, Sutherland. Minnows and plugs were the best baits in this area.

Fishing in the lower reaches of the Niobrara River and upper end of the Elkhorn River was good for the few fishermen that were out. Catfish and carp were hitting in the evening. Bullhead fishing was bringing in some bag limits.

Catfish and carp were hitting in the lower end of the Elkhorn and Platte Rivers, with crawdads and minnows taking catfish and whole kernel corn for carp. Some bass were caught at Carters Lake, but the usual catches were catfish and carp. The same was true of the sandpit lakes in this area.

Clarence Swanson Unfolds Memories Of Grantland Rice

"He was a great friend of college football, a friendly soft-spoken, wonderful gentleman who always had time to visit with you."

The gentleman spoken of was Grantland Rice, America's foremost sports writer who died Tuesday. The gentleman doing the talking was C. E. Swanson, Lincoln businessman and former Nebraska football player, who was a close friend of Rice.

"It was my personal privilege to know 'Granny' intimately. I have had the opportunity to lunch with him on many occasions the last 15 years on my visits to New York," Swanson said.

"Just this past month I had a personal letter from him in answer to my letter advising him about the new scholarship set-up at the University of Nebraska. He has always said if you want a winner you must do what winners do.

"He was for Nebraska's program wholeheartedly because he felt that scholarships were something most boys participating in athletics were entitled to and that Nebraska must have enough scholarships to attract top-flight material if they wanted to compete with winners.

"Just last December I had the privilege of being his guest at the Football Writers Association of America Banquet where the East coaches for the Shrine game were the honored guests. They were Ray Eliot, Andy Kerr, Hunk Anderson and Bernie Bierman.

"Grant asked Eliot, the Illinois coach, which was the best team in the Big Ten last year.

"Michigan State had just been selected to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl. But Eliot said 'Our boys of Illinois think that we had the best team and that the luckiest game Illinois played all year was the game with the last second touchdown to tie the University of Nebraska.'"

Swanson said Rice made the recommendation that strong teams should go on record to eliminate the illegal shift because he felt teams don't need it. Since then, the college coaches have taken action on the "sucker" shift.

"He wrote many amusing stories about betting on horse races and they all ended up with the same finale—the only way to beat betting on horses is not to bet at all," Swanson said.

"His favorite lunching spot was at the Chattam Hotel. He and the bell captain would look at the racing forms each day and before post time they would select three races that they would wager on. The bell captain handled all of the transactions. "Grant would always say 'They come out just like my articles do—you can't win.' But it was still fun for him."

Brownell Asks 'Side-Switching' Ban

EX-FEDERAL EMPLOYES INVOLVED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell proposed Wednesday that former federal employees be forever barred from "switching sides" to handle for private interests any matter with which they had been connected in government.

Present law imposes such a ban only for the first two years after the person leaves government service. A court ruled last year also that the ban applied only to money claims against the government.

Asking Congress to broaden and strengthen the law, Brownell said at present "there is no legal sanction preventing a governmental employe from utilizing the governmental powers inherent in his official position as a means of entry into a situation for his own personal advantage after resignation."

He made the request in letters to Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass).

The proposed ban would apply to business representatives as well as to lawyers, and to temporary as well as regular government employes.

Secret Atom Plane Crash Fatal To Four

CRANFIELD, England (AP)—A secret four-engine British jet atom bomber crashed in the airfield of an aeronautical college Wednesday, killing the crew of four. It was rated as having the power of 25 express locomotives.

Eyewitnesses said the tail dropped off the plane during a trial flight.

The crescent-winged Victor, a prototype of planes now on super-priority production orders for the Royal Air Force, could fly near the speed of sound. It was 10 times as powerful as the heaviest World War II bomber.

A spokesman for the makers, Handley Page Ltd., said no other bomber could fly as fast, as far and as high with as great a bomb load as the Victor. It could reach 55,000 feet and had a range of 8,000 miles.

Nixon Too Busy As Veep; Misses Reserve Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard Nixon is so busy being vice president that he can't keep up with his home work in the Naval reserves.

So, the Navy explained in answer to questions, he was unable to qualify for promotion to the rank of commander during the fiscal year just ended.

A spokesman said that Nixon's name was on a list recommended for promotion but he has been unable to earn enough points through home study to qualify. Thus, he will not be eligible until he can find opportunity to make those points.

Nixon is a member of the inactive reserve and therefore does not have to meet specific drill schedules as part of the point system.

Weary Dakotan Unable To Sleep

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — The judge sentenced Joe Kaucich of Bismarck, N. D., to three hours of sleep in the custody of Falls City Police Chief Judd Ankrom.

But Kaucich, who a few hours earlier couldn't keep awake at the wheel of his car, found that he couldn't produce a nod.

Safety patrolman G. D. Essley arrested the North Dakota man after the weary driver apparently asleep at the wheel after driving all night, barely missed hitting another car head-on.

Judge Homer D. Kirk fined Kaucich $10 and costs on a reckless driving charge and sentenced him to the three-hour rest.

EX-FEDERAL EMPLOYES INVOLVED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell proposed Wednesday that former federal employees be forever barred from "switching sides" to handle for private interests any matter with which they had been connected in government.

Present law imposes such a ban only for the first two years after the person leaves government service. A court ruled last year also that the ban applied only to money claims against the government.

Asking Congress to broaden and strengthen the law, Brownell said at present "there is no legal sanction preventing a governmental employe from utilizing the governmental powers inherent in his official position as a means of entry into a situation for his own personal advantage after resignation."

He made the request in letters to Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass).

The proposed ban would apply to business representatives as well as to lawyers, and to temporary as well as regular government employes.

Secret Atom Plane Crash Fatal To Four

CRANFIELD, England (AP)—A secret four-engine British jet atom bomber crashed in the airfield of an aeronautical college Wednesday, killing the crew of four. It was rated as having the power of 25 express locomotives.

Eyewitnesses said the tail dropped off the plane during a trial flight.

The crescent-winged Victor, a prototype of planes now on super-priority production orders for the Royal Air Force, could fly near the speed of sound. It was 10 times as powerful as the heaviest World War II bomber.

A spokesman for the makers, Handley Page Ltd., said no other bomber could fly as fast, as far and as high with as great a bomb load as the Victor. It could reach 55,000 feet and had a range of 8,000 miles.

Nixon Too Busy As Veep; Misses Reserve Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard Nixon is so busy being vice president that he can't keep up with his home work in the Naval reserves.

So, the Navy explained in answer to questions, he was unable to qualify for promotion to the rank of commander during the fiscal year just ended.

A spokesman said that Nixon's name was on a list recommended for promotion but he has been unable to earn enough points through home study to qualify. Thus, he will not be eligible until he can find opportunity to make those points.

Nixon is a member of the inactive reserve and therefore does not have to meet specific drill schedules as part of the point system.

Weary Dakotan Unable To Sleep

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — The judge sentenced Joe Kaucich of Bismarck, N. D., to three hours of sleep in the custody of Falls City Police Chief Judd Ankrom.

But Kaucich, who a few hours earlier couldn't keep awake at the wheel of his car, found that he couldn't produce a nod.

Safety patrolman G. D. Essley arrested the North Dakota man after the weary driver, apparently asleep at the wheel after driving all night, barely missed hitting another car head-on.

Judge Homer D. Kirk fined Kaucich $10 and costs on a reckless driving charge and sentenced him to the three-hour rest.

No Forecast Yet On Property Value

, County assessment abstracts which had not reached the state board of equalization Wednesday were those from Douglas and Lancaster.

Since the state's two most populous counties represent about 23 per cent of the state's total assessed valuation, it is impossible yet to forecast accurately what the total will be to which the 1954 state property levy will apply.

Tax Commissioner George Peterson was confident, however, that the figure will remain well over the three billion dollar mark, despite an apparent drop of 10 to 15 per cent in personal property assessments.

"We could hardly expect that personal property would hold up to last year's level because of lower prices," Peterson commented.

The counties reported individual personal property worth $1,032,415,240 and business personal property valued at $385,059,740 last year.

Under the 50 per cent law passed by the 1953 Legislature, these figures were cut in half before the tax levy was applied.

The state board meets Saturday to hear objections by the railroads to their 1954 assessments fixed by the board. Next week the board will consider the assessment reports from the various counties to determine whether any classes of property should be raised or lowered.

Douglas Vehicle Valuations Up

OMAHA (AP)—The county assessor's office Wednesday released figures showing the valuation of Douglas County motor vehicles for the new tax year will be $95,446 630.

The total is an increase of more than 25 million dollars.

The assessor's office is expected to announce soon Douglas County's new tangible valuation figure.

Officials said the motor vehicle hike is due to a new formula adopted by the state for figuring vehicle values, the increased number of cars and changes in vehicle tax laws.

The vehicle increase will offset about one-sixth of the 157 million dollar decrease in real estate valuations.

The tangible valuation, which is the tax base for county governmental division, includes real estate, motor vehicles, corporations, franchises, railroads, business inventories and personal property.

Officials agreed the county's new total valuation figure would be down, but they would not guess at the figure.

The assessor's office said corporations will go on tax rolls for $28,910,356, compared with $28,119,270 for the 1953-54 tax year. Franchises will be $1,562,280, compared with $1,721,720.

Of the Douglas County vehicles, $82,486,400 are within the city of Omaha and $12,960,230 outside. Last tax year, the split was $60,455,555 in Omaha and $9,356,130 outside.

All figures are at actual value. Taxes are levied against 50 per cent of actual value.

Texan Battles In Court Here To Stay Out Of Pen

Another legal skirmish in a 50-year-old Texan's battle to stay out of prisons unfolded Wednesday in Lancaster County Court.

William B. Thompson, formerly of Galveston, Tex., pleaded not guilty before Acting Judge Ralph Slocum to a fugitive from justice complaint which alleges Thompson is charged with larceny by fraud in Oklahoma.

In court, Thompson said he understood the Oklahoma charge had been dismissed and indicated he would fight expected extradition proceedings.

Thompson was taken into custody on the fugitive warrant following his release from the Nebraska Penitentiary where he served a one-year term on a bad check charge.

Thompson had been sentenced last October on the charge, pending since 1948, after he pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court, but not without earlier legal maneuvering.

Before being returned here to face the charge, Thompson had fought extradition from Kansas in a battle of almost a year that reached two Kansas courts and a Federal District Court.

New Revenue Rulings Subject Of Meetings

Seven nationally prominent attorneys will participate in an Institute on the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, sponsored by the Nebraska State Bar Association, in Omaha on July 22, 23 and 24.

The purpose of the institute is to inform attorneys and Internal Revenue Service personnel from a ten state area about the more than 3,000 changes made in tax law by the new Internal Revenue Code soon to be enacted by Congress.

Six of the nationally known attorneys appearing on the institute panel have worked closely with Congress and the Treasury Department in formulating the new tax laws.

No Forecast Yet On Property Value

ounty assessment abstracts ch had not reached the state rd of equalization Wednesday re those from Douglas and ncaster.

ince the state's two most popu-
s counties represent about 23 cent of the state's total as-sed valuation, it is impossible to forecast accurately what total will be to which the 4 state property levy will ap-

'ax Commissioner George Pe-son was confident, however, t the figure will remain well
r the three billion dollar mark, pite an apparent drop of 10 15 per cent in personal prop-
y assessments.

'We could hardly expect that
'sonal property would hold up last year's level because of er prices," Peterson com-nted.

'he counties reported individ-
personal property worth $1,032,415,240 and business personal property valued at $385,659,740 last year.

Under the 50 per cent law passed by the 1953 Legislature, these figures were cut in half before the tax levy was applied.

The state board meets Saturday to hear objections by the railroads to their 1954 assessments fixed by the board. Next week the board will consider the assessment reports from the various counties to determine whether any classes of property should be raised or lowered.

Douglas Vehicle Valuations Up

OMAHA (AP)—The county assessor's office Wednesday released figures showing the valuation of Douglas County motor vehicles for the new tax year will be $95,446,630.

The total is an increase of more than 25 million dollars.

The assessor's office is expected to announce soon Douglas County's new tangible valuation figure.

Officials said the motor vehicle hike is due to a new formula adopted by the state for figuring vehicle values, the increased number of cars and changes in vehicle tax laws.

The vehicle increase will offset about one-sixth of the 157 million dollar decrease in real estate valuations.

The tangible valuation, which is the tax base for county governmental division, includes real estate, motor vehicles, corporations, franchises, railroads, business inventories and personal property.

All figures have been compiled except business and personal schedules.

Officials agreed the county's new total valuation figure would be down, but they would not guess at the figure.

The assessor's office said corporations will go on tax rolls for $28,910,356, compared with $28,119,270 for the 1953-54 tax year. Franchises will be $1,562,280, compared with $1,721,720.

Of the Douglas County vehicles, $82,486,400 are within the city of Omaha and $12,960,230 outside. Last tax year, the split was $60,455,555 in Omaha and $9,356,130 outside.

All figures are at actual value. Taxes are levied against 50 per cent of actual value.

Escapee Arrested

Eugene Fielder, 22, of Fairbury, an inmate at the Men's Reformatory, was arrested at Hastings late Wednesday. Fielder escaped from a work detail housed at the Fairmont Air Field Tuesday night. The arrest was made by the Adams County Sheriff.

Texan Battles In Court Here To Stay Out Of Pen

Another legal skirmish in a 50-year-old Texan's battle to stay out of prisons unfolded Wednesday in Lancaster County Court.

Willimer B. Thompson, formerly of Galveston, Tex., pleaded not guilty before Acting Judge Ralph Slocum to a fugitive from justice complaint which alleges Thompson is charged with larceny by fraud in Oklahoma.

In court, Thompson said he understood the Oklahoma charge had been dismissed and indicated he would fight expected extradition proceedings.

Thompson was taken into custody on the fugitive warrant following his release from the Nebraska Penitentiary where he served a one-year term on a bad check charge.

Thompson had been sentenced last October on the charge, pending since 1948, after he pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court, but not without earlier legal maneuvering.

Before being returned here to face the charge, Thompson had fought extradition from Kansas in a battle of almost a year that reached two Kansas courts and a Federal District Court.

New Revenue Rulings Subject Of Meetings

Seven nationally prominent attorneys will participate in an Institute on the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, sponsored by the Nebraska State Bar Association, in Omaha on July 22, 23 and 24.

The purpose of the institute is to inform attorneys and Internal Revenue Service personnel from a ten state area about the more than 3,000 changes made in tax law by the new Internal Revenue Code soon to be enacted by Congress.

Six ot the nationally known attorneys appearing on the institute panel have worked closely with Congress and the Treasury Department in formulating the new tax laws.

Assistance Committee Plans Pair Of Hearings

The Legislative Council committee on assistance and relative responsibility has scheduled a public hearing in the Governor's hearing room at the Capitol on Saturday, Aug. 21 and another in Omaha on Sept. 25. Sen. Sam Klaver is chairman of the committee.

Kendall Dies Of Stock Car Accident Hurts

Robert A. Kendall, 29, Omaha, died here Wednesday of injuries suffered Sunday in a stock car accident.

He had been working on a car in the pit during the Lincoln Speedway races when a fan belt broke and a blade flew into his face.

Suffering a broken jaw and other head and neck injuries, he was rushed to a local hospital and into surgery.

A mechanic, he was born in Omaha and had lived in Nebraska all his life.

He was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Surviving are his wife, Dolores; daughter, Nancy Jo; his mother, Mrs. Anna Kendall of Omaha, and brothers, Richard of Omaha and William of Washington, D. C.

Nebraska Jobless Takes Dip

Despite the usual June influx of students and persons looking for temporary work, the number of registered unemployed in Nebraska dropped by 900 during June.

The registered unemployment total as of July 1 was 9,087, the State Labor Department reported Wednesday.

This is well over the 5,781 total of a year ago but well under the postwar July 1 peak of 13,257 reached in 1946.

Seasonal Step-Up

A seasonal step-up in demand for workers is reflected in the monthly report.

Openings listed during June by employers rose 4 per cent from May to 5,828.

Nearly 25 per cent more jobs were filled—a total of 7,346.

Of those placed, 2,151 went to farms. Factory placements rose 10 per cent to 957, the year's best figure.

There were 1,491 placements in wholesale and retail trade, and 1,136 in construction.

Double May Totals

The 2,151 farm placements doubled the May totals and exceeded June a year ago by 6 per cent.

Job openings unfilled on July 1 totaled 855, a drop of 25 per cent from the June 1 figure.

Unemployment insurance claimants averaged 2,732 per week during June, about 1,200 fewer per week than in May. In June of last year the average was 1,097.

Dollarwise, benefit payments amounted to $311,483 in June this year, compared to $404,162 in May and $109,748 in June of last year.

Conditions around the state:

Alliance: Traffic increased in June due to early arrival of harvest workers. Labor demands up from May.

Beatrice: Labor supply almost double that of a year ago. Most of male supply unskilled construction and factory workers. Female supply mostly food processors and young applicants with little work experience. Demand below normal.

Fremont: Labor supply has dropped again. More women than men now registered for work.

Grand Island: Nearly 1,500 registered job seekers include more than 300 youths and nearly 600 women workers. While labor supply has been increasing, demand has dropped. But hybrid seed corn business will employ more than 1,000 youths in July.

Hastings: Supply of full time job seekers dropped in June but supply generally ample to meet the good demand.

Kearney: Supply of labor has remained constant for past 60 days. June job opportunities highest in agriculture and construction.

Lincoln: Registered supply dropped nearly 100. Listed opening increased by 6 per cent over May.

McCook: Unemployment not a problem but labor demand is low.

Nebraska City: Labor supply slightly under that of year ago and includes numerous youths seeking summer jobs.

Norfolk: Registration of school age applicants held the labor supply to only a 10 per cent drop although 113 non-farm and 88 farm jobs were filled by the office. Shortage of farm and service workers continued.

North Platte: Registered labor supply dropped 16 per cent despite many students wanting summer work.

Omaha: Labor supply down despite student registrations. Little change in job opportunities since May.

Scottsbluff: Employers filed 17 per cent more openings for nonfarm jobs than in May. Number of registered jobs seekers dropped by 80.

Sidney: Traffic heavy in transient workers. Demand for construction and farm workers about the same as last year.

Halsey Rail Change Gets 2-1 Approval

Chairman Brown and Commissioner Palmer voted to grant the company's request. Commissioner Larson voted "no."

The commission reported approval of the request by the same railroad to substitute a caretaker for agency service at Grafton.

Other action by the commission included:

Northwestern Bell Telephone Company's proposal to revise local exchange tariff covering suburban territory near Yankton, S.D., granted.

Request of North Central Gas Co. of Casper, Wyo., for authority to borrow $225,000 on a three per cent five-year note granted.

Request by gas service company of Kansas City, Mo., for authority to issue $6,000,000 20-year first-mortgage bonds and $5,000,000 in notes under a bank credit agreement granted.

Proposal of Hyannis Central Telephone Company to transfer exchange properties to Hyannis telephone company set for hearing July 30 in Lincoln.

Assistance Committee Schedules 2 Hearings

The Legislative Council Committee on Assistance and Relative Responsibility has scheduled two public hearings.

The first will be Aug. 21 at the Statehouse in Lincoln and the other will be Sept. 25 at the Douglas County Courthouse in Omaha.

Crosby Says Transmission Line Is 'Hard To Get'

Committee Chairman Claims Project 'Doesn't Fit Yardstick'

Governor Crosby said Wednesday night that "It is going to be very difficult to get House approval of funds to construct the power transmission line from Gavins Point to Belden, Neb.

Crosby commented on the power line question on his return from the National Governors' Conference at Bolden Landing, N. Y. While in the east he conferred with Rep. Ben Jensen (R-Ia), chairman of the House Interior Appropriations subcommittee, seeking to have funds for the line approved.

"I might as well be frank," Crosby commented, "we did all we could to persuade Jensen, but he felt that the project does not fit the yardstick they have established for approval of funds." With Crosby in his talk with Jensen were Nebraska Sens. Bowring and Reynolds and Reps. Harrison and Hruska, Nebraska Republicans.

The governor went on to observe that "other means" of building the power line would be sought. He declined to say what the other means would be, aside from the prediction that something would probably be done within a week.

The Senate earlier voted $450,000 for the 30-mile line in northeastern Nebraska but House opposition forced its removal in a conference committee. The Nebraskans had hoped that money for the line could be included in a supplemental appropriations bill if Jensen's opposition could be overcome.

In Lincoln Wednesday night, Crosby said a significant result of the Governors' Conference this year was the "very useful discussion of federal-state relations." He said President Eisenhower continued to employ means of improving federal-state co-operation.

Rural Carriers Honor Retired Members

Inmates Receive Auto Theft Terms

Two Nebraska Penitentiary inmates will begin federal sentences for Dyer Act violations after they complete current terms at the state prison.

Earl Scott Jr., formerly of York, was sentenced to two years federal imprisonment after he pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court to transporting a stolen auto from California to Nebraska in November, 1953.

Joseph William Sanchez, formerly of Denver, Colo., received a sentence of one year and one day after he pleaded guilty to a federal charge of transporting a stolen auto from Colorado to Wyoming in December, 1951.

Judge John W. Delehant ordered the federal sentences to begin after the inmates complete their state penitentiary terms.

Mrs. Wortman, 76, Rites Saturday

Services for Mrs. Lillian Wortman, 76, 2504 No. 49th, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Hodgman-Splain, Dr. Frank Court officiating.

Mrs. Wortman, who died Tuesday, was a native of Pennsylvania. She came to Lincoln from Ashland 32 years ago.

She had been organist at the Ashland Methodist Church and had started playing there when she was 12.

She was a member of the Methodist Church and had been president of the Lincoln Hearing Society.

Surviving are her husband, Judge C. S. Wortman, and a brother, F. E. Lytle of Lincoln.

Burial will be at Ashland.

Crosby Says Transmission Line Is 'Hard To Get'

Committee Chairman Claims Project 'Doesn't Fit Yardstick'

Governor Crosby said Wednesday night that "It is going to be very difficult to get House approval of funds to construct the power transmission line from Gavins Point to Belden, Neb.

Crosby commented on the power line question on his return from the National Governors' Conference at Bolden Landing, N. Y. While in the east he conferred with Rep. Ben Jensen (R-Ia), chairman of the House Interior Appropriations subcommittee, seeking to have funds for the line approved.

"I might as well be frank," Crosby commented, "we did all we could to persuade Jensen, but he felt that the project does not fit the yardstick they have established for approval of funds." With Crosby in his talk with Jensen were Nebraska Sens. Bowring and Reynolds and Reps. Harrison and Hruska, Nebraska Republicans.

The governor went on to observe that "other means" of building the power line would be sought. He declined to say what the other means would be, aside from the prediction that something would probably be done within a week.

The Senate earlier voted $450,000 for the 30-mile line in northeastern Nebraska but House opposition forced its removal in a conference committee. The Nebraskans had hoped that money for the line could be included in a supplemental appropriations bill if Jensen's opposition could be overcome.

In Lincoln Wednesday night, Crosby said a significant result of the Governors' Conference this year was the "very useful discussion of federal-state relations." He said President Eisenhower continued to employ means of improving federal-state co-operation.

Rural Carriers Honor Retired Members

Inmates Receive Auto Theft Terms

Two Nebraska Penitentiary inmates will begin federal sentences for Dyer Act violations after they complete current terms at the state prison.

Earl Scott Jr., formerly of York, was sentenced to two years federal imprisonment after he pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court to transporting a stolen auto from California to Nebraska in November, 1953.

Joseph William Sanchez, formerly of Denver, Colo., received a sentence of one year and one day after he pleaded guilty to a federal charge of transporting a stolen auto from Colorado to Wyoming in December, 1951.

Judge John W. Delehant ordered the federal sentences to begin after the inmates complete their state penitentiary terms.

Mrs. Wortman, 76, Rites Saturday

Mrs. Wortman, who died Tuesday, was a native of Pennsylvania. She came to Lincoln from Ashland 32 years ago.

She had been organist at the Ashland Methodist Church and had started playing there when she was 12.

She was a member of the Methodist Church and had been president of the Lincoln Hearing Society.

Surviving are her husband, Judge C. S. Wortman, and a brother, F. E. Lytle of Lincoln.

Burial will be at Ashland.

'53 Oil Output 73% Greater Than Previous Production

OMAHA (AP) — Crude Oil production in Nebraska in 1953 was equal to 73 per cent of the value of all the petroleum previously produced in the state.

Morse C. Palmer, Nebraska co-chairman for the Oil Industry Information Committee, reported this week that last year's crude oil production, valued as $16,120,000, brought the all-time value of the state's production to $38,270,000

Six and a quarter million barrels, or 17,100 barrels a day, were produced from Nebraska wells in 1953.

Second Place

Palmer said that petroleum has now moved into second place among the state's mineral products Ranking only behind cement, it accounted for 35 per cent of all minerals during 1953.

The State's production of crude oil still amounts to only three-tenths of 1 per cent of the national total.

Palmer reported that the state's average daily production had increased more than four times between 1950 and 1953.

18 Per Cent

Eighteen per cent of the state's land has either proved productive or is under lease for oil or gas drilling, he said. Seven thousand acres have actually produced petroleum products.

Palmer reported that the 6,257,000 barrels of crude oil produced last year brought the state's total to 18,872,000.

Natural gas production, 4,685-million cubic feet, was valued at $666,000, he said.

19 New Fields

Last year 19 new oil fields and pays were discovered. bringing proved crude oil reserves, as of Jan. 1, 1954, to 25,621,000 barrels. Proved natural gas liquid reserves totaled more than three million barrels.

Proved reserves of the gaseous form were 182,110-million cubic feet, more than half of which was found in 1953

Of the 320 wells drilled during the year, Palmer said 39 per cent produced oil, 3.7 per cent yielded natural gas and slightly more than 57 per cent proved to be dry holes.

Cheyenne Co. Gets One Oil, 3 Gas Wells

SIDNEY, Neb (AP)—Cheyenne County has another oil well and three more gas wells.

British-American Oil Producing Co. announced this week that its Maley No. 2, five miles south of Sidney, is an oiler of good quality.

Drillers recovered 1,760 feet of clean oil in a drill stem test after topping the J and, BaA sand. Structurally, the No. 2 ran about 20 feeet higher than No. 1, indicating possibilities for additional expansion of the pool's limits.

Ohio Oil Co. announced this week it had added two more gassers in the West Sidney Field—Rapp No. 1 and Radcliffe No. 1. In addition, Ohio reports that Sparks No. 1 came in at more than two million cubic feet a day from the first Dakota formation.

Rapp guaged at 3,022,000 cubic feet while the Radcliffe well tested 4,132,000 cubic feet daily.

Drillers of the Rapp well are continuing down to the J sand, looking for possible oil deposits.

Meanwhile, Wytex Oil Co. said it would bring a rig to the Malay Field this week and begin drilling its Buchan No. 1. Wytex officials at Sterling, Colo., said drillers probably will drive down two additioonal wells in the same vicinity.

'53 Oil Output 73% Greater Than Previous Production

OMAHA (AP) — Crude Oil production in Nebraska in 1953 was equal to 73 per cent of the value of all the petroleum previously produced in the state.

Morse C. Palmer, Nebraska co-chairman for the Oil Industry Information Committee, reported this week that last year's crude oil production, valued as $16,120,000, brought the all-time value of the state's production to $38,270,000.

Six and a quarter million barrels, or 17,100 barrels a day, were produced from Nebraska wells in 1953.

Second Place

Palmer said that petroleum has now moved into second place among the state's mineral products. Ranking only behind cement, it accounted for 35 per cent of all minerals during 1953.

The State's production of crude oil still amounts to only three-tenths of 1 per cent of the national total.

Palmer reported that the state's average daily production had increased more than four times between 1950 and 1953.

18 Per Cent

Eighteen per cent of the state's land has either proved productive or is under lease for oil or gas drilling, he said. Seven thousand acres have actually produced petroleum products.

Palmer reported that the 6,257,000 barrels of crude oil produced last year brought the state's total to 18,872,000.

Natural gas production, 4,685-million cubic feet, was valued at $666,000, he said.

19 New Fields

Last year 19 new oil fields and pays were discovered, bringing proved crude oil reserves, as of Jan. 1, 1954, to 25,621,000 barrels. Proved natural gas liquid reserves totaled more than three million barrels.

Proved reserves of the gaseous form were 182,110-million cubic feet, more than half of which was found in 1953.

Of the 320 wells drilled during the year, Palmer said 39 per cent produced oil, 3.7 per cent yielded natural gas and slightly more than 57 per cent proved to be dry holes.

Cheyenne Co. Gets One Oil, 3 Gas Wells

SIDNEY, Neb (AP)—Cheyenne County has another oil well and three more gas wells.

British-American Oil Producing Co. announced this week that its Maley No. 2, five miles south of Sidney, is an oiler of good quality.

Drillers recovered 1,760 feet of clean oil in a drill stem test after topping the J and, BaA sand. Structurally, the No. 2 ran about 20 feeet higher than No. 1, indicating possibilities for additional expansion of the pool's limits.

Ohio Oil Co. announced this week it had added two more gassers in the West Sidney Field—Rapp No. 1 and Radcliffe No. 1. In addition, Ohio reports that Sparks No. 1 came in at more than two million cubic feet a day from the first Dakota formation.

Rapp guaged at 3,022,000 cubic feet while the Radcliffe well tested 4,132,000 cubic feet daily.

Drillers of the Rapp well are continuing down to the J sand, looking for possible oil deposits.

Meanwhile, Wytex Oil Co. said it would bring a rig to the Malay Field this week and begin drilling its Buchan No. 1. Wytex officials at Sterling, Colo., said drillers probably will drive down two additioonal wells in the same vicinity.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

If the Constitution follows the flag, the amendments should never be waived.

Nevertheless, we have come up with the Fifth Amendment patriot ambushed behind an afterthought.

The Fifth Amendment citizen has switched the plural preamble, "We, the people," to the singular, "Me, the people."

He has erected a corridor barricade of Article V, which says no citizen shall be deprived of property or its equivalent in room tickets without process of slot machine, bingo or a Habeas Grabbus.

The Fifth Amendment citizen claims no one shall be put twice in jeopardy even if he does it again.

We have finally rounded up the subject and doing something about it. Congress is making treason in peace time punishable by a ride on a cloud.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y L D L B A A X E
W L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Lake McConaughy Meeting Challenge

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — Lake McConaughy in western Nebraska is experiencing its greatest demands for water since The Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation (Tri-County) district's Kingsley dam was completed 14 years ago.

The 23-mile long lake is meeting the challenge despite the fact the year just past was the poorest in its history for storage build-up, a Tri-County spokesman said Wednesday.

This week almost a quarter million acres of land in the North Platte and Platte River valleys were getting all or part of their irrigation water from Lake McConaughy.

This includes the 110,000 acres under the Central Nebraska District's own canals, approximately 90,000 acres under the eight ditches on the river from Brady to Kearney, 14,000 acres under the North Platte Canal, 3,000 acres under the Paxton-Hershey, 6,000 under the Keith-Lincoln County, 8,000 under the suburban, and approximately 10,000 acres under the canals on Blue Creek which joins the Platte River just above Lewellen.

The arrangement to suply the Blue Creek canals, which lie above Lake McConaughy, was worked out Wednesday after the State Department of Irrigation forced closing of their headgates to allow the meagre natural flow of the river to supply the senior rights of the Platte Valley canal below Lake McConaughy.

The agreement with the Central District allocates the Platte Valley canal 3,000 acre feet to replace the natural flow which the Blue Creek canals will take.

This move will keep the Blue Creek canals and all canals east of Lewellen open for several days.

The Central Nebraska is making other allocations of water for canals which have natural flow appropriations only for which there is no water in the river.

Dan Jones Jr., chief of the Bureau of Irrigation said if it were not for the storage behind the Kingsley Dam, practically all irrigation east of Bridgeport would be closed down.

Wringer Job

POMPTON PLAINS, N.J. (AP)— Several members normally work a full day to fold some 2,000 voting information sheets the League of Women Voters mails out annually. This year Mrs. J.W. Worden Sr., did it all herself by feeding the sheets through her washing machine wringer. Mrs. Worden got the idea from her grandson, Donald Worden, who uses the same method to fold church bulletins.

Stock Mart Gains AfterConsolidation

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned ahead again Wednesday after two sessions of cautious consolidation.

Railroads formed the base for the rise, and there was plenty of help from key stocks in major divisions.

Most of the rest of the market spent morning in an irregular manner and much of the time it pointed lower. Late in the session however the rising tendency broadened out and took the whole list upward.

One feature of the day was the trading emphasis placed on individual issues and groups that haven't had much of a hand in recent advances. At the same time, there was somewhat of a tendency to neglect those blue chips that lent so much to spectacular markets of past weeks.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP) Long term U. S. government bonds were in demand Wednesday and railroads spurred the corporate bond market upward.

The Treasury's 40-year 2½s climbed a quarter of a point to 111 6/32 bid, a record high.

Dealers of government securities reported over the counter activity centered on long term issues. However intermediates and some short termers also inched upward. There were few sellers.

Big Board volume climbed to 1,110,000 par value from 1,120,000 Tuesday. Railroads especially medium grade issues found the most support as they have throughout the week. Industrials and utilities fluctuated narrowly. Convertibles tended to improve.

Heat Again Lifts Corn, Bean Sales

CHICAGO (AP)—Hot, dry weather again provided the main stimulus for grains on the Board of Trade Wednesday, new crop corn and soybeans responding most to soaring temperatures.

It was the third straight day in which weather has dominated the market. Fears the dry spell will cause deterioration in 1954 crops of corn and soybeans have mounted, although many grain experts cautioned one good rain could quickly alter the picture.

Other cereals, as well as the old crop corn and soybean contracts, had an erratic tone most of the day. They ended mainly with small gains, however. Weather also was a factor in wheat as lower temperatures are wanted to check the growth of rust in the northwest.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ½ higher, corn unchanged to 1¼ higher, oats ½-¾ higher, rye unchanged to ¾ higher, soybeans ¼ lower to 1¾ higher and lard 2 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Stock Mart Gains AfterConsolidation

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned ahead again Wednesday after two sessions of cautious consolidation.

Railroads formed the base for the rise, and there was plenty of help from key stocks in major divisions.

Most of the day the market spent swinging in an irregular manner, and much of the time it pointed lower. Late in the session, however, the rising tendency broadened out and took the whole list upward.

One feature of the day was the trading emphasis placed on individual issues and groups that haven't had much of a hand in recent advances. At the same time, there was somewhat of a tendency to neglect those blue chips that lent so much to spectacular markets of past weeks.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Long term U. S. government bonds were in demand Wednesday and railroads spurred the corporate bond market upward.

The Treasury's 30-year 3¼s climbed a quarter of a point to 111 6/32 bid, a record high.

Dealers of government securities reported over the counter activity centered on long term issues. However, intermediates and some short termers also inched upward. There were few sellers.

Big Board volume climbed to $4,410,000 par value from $4,120,000 Tuesday. Railroads, especially medium grade issues, found the most support, as they have throughout the week. Industrials and utilities fluctuated narrowly. Convertibles tended to improve.

Heat Again Lifts Corn, Bean Sales

CHICAGO (AP)— Hot, dry weather again provided the main stimulus for grains on the Board of Trade Wednesday, new crop corn and soybeans responding most to soaring temperatures.

It was the third straight day in which weather has dominated the market. Fears the dry spell will cause deterioration in 1954 crops of corn and soybeans have mounted, although many grain experts cautioned one good rain could quickly alter the picture.

Other cereals, as well as the old crop corn and soybean contracts, had an erratic tone most of the day. They ended mainly with small gains, however. Weather also was a factor in wheat as lower temperatures are wanted to check the growth of rust in the northwest.

Wheat closed ⅝ lower to ½ higher, corn unchanged to 1⅝ higher, oats ¼-⅝ higher, rye unchanged to ⅛ higher, soybeans 3½ lower to 3¾ higher and lard 2 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower.
